GENERAL KOUTEPOV IS STILL MISSING

Tardieu Refuses To Attempt Press Censorship and Russians Admit Situation Is Serious.

BY JOHN GUNTHER.

(Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

PARIS, France, Feb. 4.—The soviet embassy here indignantly confirmed today reports that the mysterious disappearance of General Alexander Paul Koutepov has caused a diplomatic crisis between France and Russia. "We have been half unable to work all week on account of the excitement and commotion," one diplomat frankly said, adding that it would be difficult for him to continue his normal duties in the face of the blazing barrage of anti-bolshevik French press.

Officials at the embassy are convinced that the whole Koutepov affair is a flagrant hoax out of which the white Russians hope to fabricate turnout and indignation that diplomatic relations may be broken off.

"Where is General Koutepov? How is he? Do we know where he is?
We are certain, however, that he could not have been abducted in broad daylight without a struggle, and that wherever he is it is a place to which he went on his own free will."

It is said in soviet circles that General Koutepov faced an internal row in his own organization and departed secretly for La Rochelle January 26 and is awaiting there a boat for South America. The French police are investigating in La Rochelle.

The embassy has been assured that its diplomatic immunity will not be interfered with and that no "invasion" can take place—either by the enraged white Russians or the police. Premier Andre Tardieu, however, was unable to promise to restrain the frantic press.

Eugene Arens, counselor at the soviet embassy, is permanently returning to Moscow some time this week and this appears to be a normal item of diplomatic interchange, not as has been suggested, for the purpose of a secret report to Joseph Stalin on the whole tangled mess at the Rue Grenelle embassy out of which have popped up such strange and hair-raising episodes as the escape of Be-sedovsky, former counselor at the embassy. Premier Tardieu took time today to confer with the chief of police.

However, indignant soviet constituents are that the Koutepov tragedy (or farce) is a pretext for an embarrassing campaign against them, their indignation certainly does not match that of the white Russians, who insist with daily increasing fervor that the unlucky general was done away with by soviet hands. The refugee

Four Convicts Caught In Peachtree Section

TWO CAPTURED IN BOBBY JONES' FATHER'S GARAGE

Meeting over the property of some of Atlanta's wealthiest and most fashionable residents, four convicts Tuesday afternoon made a sensational but futile dash for liberty, terrorizing for more than an hour the beautiful Peachtree road section and being returned to the North camp only after causing one of the greatest manhunts in the county's history.

Two of the convicts, one serving his fourth term in the chain gang, were captured in the garage of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Jones, where they went for citizens clothing and in the hope of obtaining a motor car, in which they hoped to evade a score of posses which by that time were scouring the countryside.

Only one of the men, Louis D.
O'Sullivan, was a short timer, he having served seven months of a two-year sentence. The other three, Luther Deese, Raymond Sharp and J.
A. Peters, were serving long terms, which all began only recently. Deese is serving his fourth term at the North camp and is said to have a previous prison record.

Deese and O'Sullivan were captured in the Jones garage at 2632 Peachtree road after county policemen had closed in on the building and fired a volley of shots to intimidate them into surrender. The other two were captured in underbrush off Northside drive less than a quarter of a mile from where all four escaped, two at a time, from under the eyes of guards who were "working" a large detail of prisoners, repairing the surface of the road.

The detail was preparing to return to the prison camp shortly after 3 o'clock when Sharp and Peters dashed into a thicket. There were only two guards in charge. One gave pursuit but lost trace of the two men in a few minutes. He ran to a nearby house to telephone the alarm to the camp.

Warden Claud Mills sounded a general alarm. The county police were called and Chief George Mathieson ordered every county patrolman in the north section of the county to join in the hunt. Meanwhile, taking advantage of the absence of one guard, Deese and O'Sullivan fled. The guard fired a volley of six shots but all went wild.

Every available guard at the North camp and the West Side camp at Bolton were called into service. Night guards were roused from their sleep to take charge of the details returning to the two camps and the day men, heavily armed, joined the rapidly growing search for the four prisoners. Chief of Police James L. Beau-vers was notified and he sent what patrolmen he could spare to join the search.

Within 15 minutes after the first alarm was sounded 90 men were searching for the convicts. They were in groups of two and three, some on horseback, some afoot and some in motor cars. Though exciting while it lasted the search didn't last long.
In less than an hour after they had fled, Sharp and Peters were surrounded in a densely wooded tract off Northside drive. They yielded to the command of members of a posse to throw up their hands and were returned to camp without further resistance.

A few minutes later Warden Mills received a message that County Policemen A. A. Stovall, Charles Lyle and James Haggard were moving in on the Jones garage, where a domestic servant of a house in the neighborhood reported she had seen "two men in stripes enter."

Mills ordered more men to the Jones garage, but when they arrived Stovall and his associates had them marching toward the camp, hands held aloft.
They had surrendered after the county police had fired one volley and had called to the two prisoners that they were going to "shoot them out."

All four men were back in the camp by 5 o'clock and Warden Mills sent them to bed with the notice that they would be "dealt with severely" today.

CONFIDENT SPIRIT PERVADES PARLEY ON NAVAL SLASH

Agreement on Cut in Navies Believed Much Nearer After Tuesday Sessions.

BY FRANK H. KING.

Associated Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Moving with the greatest speed achieved since its start, the London naval conference today recorded definite progress in the cause of naval disarmament.

A more confident spirit seemed to pervade conference circles, as the result of two important meetings, one of which was attended by all delegates at St. James' place this morning, the other a two-hour session between American and Japanese delegates this afternoon.

Moreover, the official communique for the first time since the conference opened, departed from cold chro-nology of meetings sufficiently to indicate that "good results in preparing the way for an agreement" are being produced by private conversations among the delegations, and added that those talks could continue.

The setting of a date for the next public plenary session, which likely will be late this week or early next, will be one of the objects at a meeting of the chief delegates at 6 p. m.
tomorrow. At that session the work of the conference thus far will be reviewed and interpreted.

Significant Meeting.

The meeting today of the American and Japanese was considered a significant milestone in the conference work, for real problems of ships and tonnage were tackled. In a way the talk was a continuation of general conversations held at Washington.

Secretary Stimson, head of the American delegation, was prepared and plunged into the knotty problem of Japanese-American differences regarding cruiser strength, but a Japanese spokesman said later that the actual talk about ships was largely limited to battleships and submarines.

The spokesman admitted that cruisers were mentioned, but emphasized that the main conversations covered battleships and submarines. On these topics, American and Japanese views are well known, both being agreeable to the extension of size limits of capital ships but neither country agreeing with the British that the battleship is an anachronism.

When the United States supports the British proposal that submarines should be abolished, the American delegation entertains hardly the faintest hope that this will be done at London. Japan champions underwater craft as staunchly as France but regards them as a defensive weapon only, and is willing to the strictest limita-

Conferees Sought.

Since the arrival of the Japanese in London they have been desirous of starting informal negotiations with the American delegation, and today's meeting brought more Japanese and American delegates together for serious business than have hitherto met here.

Secretary Stimson, with Ambassador Morrow and Senator Reed, received Reijiro Wakatsuki, Ambassador Matsudaira and Admiral Takagaki, and the basic needs of each country's seapower were explored.

The Japanese will carry on similar talks with the British, making triangular conferences wherein the actual figures of ships and tonnage will not be shied at so easily as has been the case in Franco-Italian discussions.

An American spokesman said tonight that in the American delegation there was "a feeling that distinct progress has been made as a result of today's work. He declined to say whether this referred particularly to this morning's general conference meeting or to the American-Japanese negotiations later in the day.

Taft Returns To Capital

the only man in history to have been both president and chief justice are alarming.

GANGLAND'S GUNS CLAIM 8TH VICTIM

Crime Wave Grips Chicago as Officials Confer on Drastic Measures.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—(UN)—The seventh and eighth victims of gangster bullets in less than a week fell dead here late today only a few hours after it was revealed that a special grand jury had taken steps to curb a new crime wave, almost unprecedented even in Chicago.

A man about 30 years old and identified only as "Phil," a west side slochol distiller, was shot five times through the head by two assailants, who escaped on foot. Spectators, so excited that they turned in a fire alarm, were unable to describe the murderers.

The shooting took place while Commissioner of Police William E. Russell still was in another protracted conference with State's Attorney John A.
Swanson.

Joseph Bicecra, the eighth victim, a grocer, was shot to death in his South Side apartment tonight, supposedly by extortionists.

Bicecra's slayers had smothered the sound of their shots by increasing the volume of a radio to which the victim had been listening.

Swanson said that growing public indignation over the "new outbreak of gangland savagery" made drastic police action necessary.

He had called the police commissioner on the carpet yesterday after the bullet-riddled body of "Handsome Joe" Coda, racketeer, was found in his automobile. Today, when William Healy, 37, hoodlum, was found critically wounded, Swanson sent another call to the commissioner of police and the shooting later this afternoon intensified things.

"The state's attorney's office is willing to do its part in cleaning Chicago of its hoodlums and killers," said Swanson, "but we don't intend to assume the duties of the police.
It's their work to bring in the gunmen."

Minister's Auto 'Steals' Chicken; Owner Sought

The Rev. C. A. Turner, pastor of the East Stonewall Baptist church, walked into the editorial offices of The Constitution Tuesday night and reported that much against his will he is, temporarily, at least, a chicken thief.

Now the good pastor wants to practice what he preaches and in making his "confession" asked The Constitution to help him restore the fowl to its owner. It all came about like this:

Mr. Turner was driving his sedan through the west side Tuesday afternoon. He stopped at the offices of a lumber company and, proceeding to Lee street and westward, came upon the intersection of Carter and Griffin streets, where he was halted by two negroes.

The negroes, Will Horton, of 735
Carter street, and John Ward, of 516
Magnolia street, told the Rev. Mr.
Turner they could see a chicken hidden in a haystack and further told him there was one hidden in the front springs of his car. Minute investigation revealed that the negroes knew their chickens. Trapped in the springs, but in the very best of health, was a bright red rooster of edible size and age. Mr. Turner was awed.

The pastor decided the best thing to do was to advertise his find, inasmuch as he does not have the slightest idea on what part of his junket he picked up his extra passenger. He took the rooster to his home, 406 John Wesley avenue, College Park, and there will retain it until he finds its owner, if ever. If he doesn't, the bird will be on the menu at the Turner home some day soon.

MAN IS SENTENCED IN CONTEMPT CASE

Alleged Intimidation of "Star" Witness Costs
Tom Aiken 20 Days.

Alleged efforts to intimidate the principal witness for the prosecution Monday cost Tom Aiken, who is charged with whisky law violation, a term of 20 days in Fulton Tower on a contempt of court charge.

During court Tuesday Judge Jesse M. Wood was told by the father of the state's witness that Aiken had threatened to have the witness arrested if he testified.

According to the story unfolded in criminal court, Paul Ferguson was arrested October 21 on Courtland street in possession of 70 gallons of whisky.
Ferguson, a name which is said to be an alias of the state's witness, was convicted and sentenced to pay a $500 fine or serve 18 months. Ferguson served two months, and, on Monday night the fine was paid, it was said.

He determined to tell the truth about the load of whisky, and on his statement that the whisky belonged to Aiken, for whom he was working, an accusation against Aiken was sworn out, it was said. While waiting for the trial to come up in court, Aiken called the boy's father out in the corridor and told him that if the boy testified against him he would have Paul arrested on charges of killing a negro woman and stealing a pistol, the father told Judge Wood.

Judge Wood, in passing a contempt sentence on Aiken, said: "The thing you have done here is worse than the crime you are charged with." Court officials said that Aiken was given a 12 months' sentence in October on a charge of possessing whisky, and is free on bond pending result of an appeal.

Keeps in Close Touch.

BULLETINS MARK PATIENT'S PROGRESS

President Announces Acceptance of Resignation and Shows Deep Concern as Jurist Reaches Capital

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(UN)— William Howard Taft fought tonight for his life against the effects of a weakening blood system.

A bulletin was issued tonight on the former president and retired chief justice at 7:10 p. m., as follows:
"His condition is due to arterio-sclerotic changes. He has no fever and is not suffering pain. His heart is holding out well. He is more alert.
We feel he is possibly a little better
this evening."

At the home it was said that no change was noted in the former president's condition since this morning.
He was still resting comfortably.

Charles and Robert Taft, sons of the sick man, have notified the family they will come to the bedside in a day or two. They were not summoned, indicating possibly that the illness is not now critical, but the family has remained closely knit ever since the boys left home, and they wish to be here now in case of an emergency.

Only Mrs. Taft and a housekeeper, in addition to the nurses, doctors and secretary, were in the big three-story brick house with the former president tonight. Mr. Taft's beloved elder brother, Charles P. Taft, died in Cincinnati a little over a month ago, and it was after going there for the funeral that Mr. Taft collapsed from grief and strain.

The bulletin was signed by Drs.
Thomas A. Clayton and Francis R.
Hagner, of Washington, and Dr. William S. Thayer, Johns Hopkins university heart specialist. Thayer resulted to Baltimore after the consultation, which lasted more than an hour.

Informally the doctors said they did not believe Mr. Taft was in any imminent danger. Their previous bulletin of the day, reported in part by the night bulletin, said the 72-year-old patient's condition was "serious."

Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, the 88-year-old acting chief justice, and dean of the court, was among several callers who offered their sympathy. Mrs. Taft, who is severely shaken by the strain of bringing her husband back from Asheville, N. C., went for an automobile ride this afternoon.

President Hoover announced acceptance of his resignation, proffered yesterday, a few hours after his arrival.
Mr. Hoover praised Mr. Taft for his long and distinguished service for the

TEXAS JURIST'S FATE IN HANDS OF JURY

John Brady, Former Judge, Pleads Insanity in Murder Case.

COURTROOM, AUSTIN, Texas.
Feb. 4.—(AP)—The fate of John V. Brady, former Texas jurist, tonight was in the hands of the jury which heard the evidence at his trial on a first degree murder charge for the killing of Lehlia Highsmith, a stenographer half his age. The jury took the case at 4:55 p. m.

The defense called Brady a brilliant man stripped of his strength and made insane by long use of bootleg liquor; the state insisted that he employed his knife as a jealous elderly lover.

Arguments centered chiefly around the insanity issue. Defense lawyers contended that Brady slew the girl, but contended it was the act of a mad John Brady, not that of the Brady who once sat in the same courtroom on the prosecution side of the table as a county attorney and later as assistant attorney-general.

Brooks, in his arguments, struck at the motion for a suspended sentence in the event of conviction.

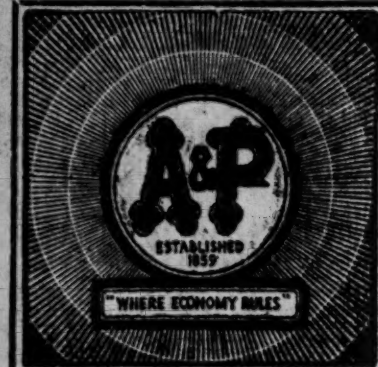

"Did that little girl get a suspended sentence?" he called out in a high voice. "No, she got the death penalty."

"Yes, John Brady thought she was trying to throw him down for a younger man, and John Brady killed her even as she pleaded for her life."

A. G. B. Highsmith, father of the dead girl, wept as Brooks described the wounds in Lehlia's body. Brady also wept as counsel eulogized his wife.

Check Artist Plies His Trade While in Jail

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Feb. 4.—(AP) The philanthropist Dr. E. A. Richardson, alias Aubrey J. McCoy, formerly of New Orleans and Montgomery, today failed to convince a jury in circuit court of the man's plea of insanity and he was convicted on a charge of passing worthless checks. Richardson offered as proof of his insanity evidence that he forged a $10 check while in jail here Christmas Day which he tossed out of a window to a delivery boy with instructions to purchase flowers for the prisoners' tables at dinner. The flowers were delivered to Jailer W. I. Huff.

Another incident he recalled was when he was arrested in Selma last fall at which time he presented a policeman with an overcoat because he appeared to be suffering from the cold. The gift of the overcoat to the policeman led to Richardson's downfall. It was said to have been the property of Dave Overton, of Tuscaloosa, which resulted in his arrest and return here.

A financial deal in Columbus, Ga., several months ago, he said, whereby he was to purchase real estate and other property for $1,250,000, fell through just before the transaction was about to be consummated when someone wired a Montgomery bank regarding his financial status.

Having tired of financial and philanthropic work Richardson said he took a flier into politics, being defeated for mayor of New Orleans in 1927 by 100 votes. He said he believed his campaign on the purchase of hundreds of bloodhound pups to halt a crime wave.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Cecil Curry, West Palm Beach, selected a federal courtroom in which to drown his legal troubles. Cecil is back in jail.

He was defendant in the court of Judge Alexander Akerman on charges of prohibition law violation. While awaiting hearing today Curry left the courtroom. He returned to fall so soundly asleep that a bailiff had difficulty in awakening him. He demonstrated at the bailiff's seeming rudeness.

"Bring that man up here," Judge Akerman ordered.

Curry, aided by the bailiff, steered a hazardous course to a point in front of the bench.

"Are you intoxicated?" Judge Akerman asked.

Curry smiled winningly.

"Apparently you are," the jurist asserted. "You may stay in jail until you are sober enough to come back."

"Bring that man up here," Judge Akerman ordered.

Curry, aided by the bailiff, steered a hazardous course to a point in front of the bench.

"Are you intoxicated?" Judge Akerman asked.

Curry smiled winningly.

Son To Be Freed To Visit Father Sentenced To Die

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 4.—(AP)—William B. Howell, 20, probably will be released from Michigan state prison at Jackson to visit his father, W. H. Howell, 63, awaiting death by electrocution in the Arkansas penitentiary at Little Rock.

Representative Harney McGeehe, of Crawford county, Arkansas, attorney for the elder Howell, wrote Governor Green asking clemency for William, who was sentenced for one to five years for carrying concealed weapons. He began serving his sentence two months ago.

Representative McGeehe told Governor Green several children in the Howell family needed support of William. The judge, who sentenced him in Detroit, said he had no objection to clemency. The Howell family lives at Vanburen, Ark.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 4.—(AP)—A 63-year-old man condemned to die February 28 for a triple slaying in Crawford county—W. H. Howell—was overjoyed tonight to learn his son may be freed from a Michigan prison to visit him.

News from Lansing that William R. Howell may be granted clemency by Governor Green, of Michigan, was conveyed tonight by Ward on S. L. Tondumier.

The aged man's face lighted up at the news.

"Well, I hope he can come," Howell said.

"I'm sorry to learn William has gotten into trouble," Howell said. "But it will be mighty nice if they will release him."

The aged man was convicted of slaying Jeff Nicholson, an inmate of the Crawford county infirmary, in December, 1928. He was charged with but never tried for slaying Clifford Duffenbaugh, superintendent of the institution, and Duffenbaugh's wife. The three were found shot to death.

Kentucky Abolishes
State Pardon Board

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Three actions of statewide interest featured the session of the general assembly here today as the house passed the bill abolishing the office of pardon commission which had been previously passed by the senate.

The joint committee to investigate the highway commission was named and the house passed the bill to have the state textbook commission appointed by the state board of education. As a little sidelight to other important enforcement filed up and a subsidiary in the senate when C. R. Luker's bill to eliminate double jeopardy in prohibition cases was debated and re-submitted to committee. This action is believed to have killed further consideration of the bill at this session.

A complete change in the commission and the method of selecting textbooks for use in public schools is provided in the measure passed in the house. A commission of nine members, appointed by the state board of education, with the state superintendent of public instruction as an ex-officio member, instead of by the governor, is provided.

Public Service Head
Of New York Quits

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 4.—(AP)—William A. Predgerast, chairman of the public service commission, resigned today because he did not feel the commission "should be influenced in the exercise" of its quasi-judicial functions by Governor Roosevelt or any other agency of the state government.

His announcement came as a climax to a series of developments in the state's fight against a $14,000,000 rate increase by the New York Telephone Company.

Governor Roosevelt, pressed for an elaboration of the chairman's reason for resigning, admitted it arose from a difference of opinion on the matter of policy in the regulation of public utilities.

Information Asked
On Plane Disasters

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(AP)—A resolution requesting the secretary of commerce to transmit to the senate all information concerning aircraft accidents in the United States since May 20, 1928, was introduced today by Senator Bratton, democrat, New Mexico.

The information would include the causes of the accidents, which the department of commerce does not make public. The commerce department policy has been criticized on the floor of the senate recently.

16-by-26-Inch Towel Fatal After Operation

EDMONTON, Alta., Feb. 4.—(AP)—A coroner's jury has decided that Mrs. Ruth Olsen, 27, died at a hospital here January 29 as the result of a towel, 16 by 26 inches, being left in her body after an operation January 20.

The attending physicians, Dr. H. E. Chatham and Dr. A. M. Crawford, were exonerated by the jury. Miss M. Rieve, a nurse, testified that she did not count the towels, as she

HOOVER TO NAME HAITI PROBE BOARD

Decides Marines Must Leave Black Republic
"Sometime."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(UN)—American military rule in Haiti, begun 15 years ago after an infuriated mob dragged President Sam into the street and tore him limb from limb, must come to an end "sometime," President Hoover declared today. He said he would name a commission soon to decide "when and how" America will withdraw and "what we shall do in the meantime."

The announcement, the first declaration of the Hoover administration's underlying Haitian policy, came just before the house adopted senate amendments to the resolution proposing that the president for the investigation. The senate amendments merely provide $50,000 for the appropriation, instead of formally authorizing a commission to make the inquiry as originally proposed by Mr. Hoover. Later the senate adopted a minor house amendment completing congressional action.

Eventual withdrawal of marine and other control from the West Indian negro republic has been discussed in Washington for several years, and Charles Evans Hughes, representing this country, said in 1927 at the Havana Pan-American conference that the United States contemplated this step.

Pointing out that the treaty of 1915 under which the United States took over administration of Haiti would expire in 1936, Mr. Hoover declared: "We need now a new and definite policy looking toward the expiration of our treaties."

Mr. Hoover set forth two objectives for the commission of five or six men, which he will appoint soon to study Haitian conditions. He said: "The primary question which is to be investigated is when and how are to withdraw from Haiti. The second question is what we shall do in the meantime."

Trio Hold Up Bank, Escape With $10,000

RIVERTON, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Three robbers today locked employees of the Riverton State bank in the vault and escaped with an estimated $10,000.

The trio applied at the bank for change. A teller notified Cashier S. H. Dasher that the men looked "suspicious."

"You're right," said one of the robbers. "Stick up your hands."

They were forced into the bank vault, one of the robbers rifled the vault, a second went through the cash drawer and the third kept watch. They left the bank apparently unnoticed and fled in an automobile.

Woman Indicted

JACKSON, Ky., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Tharp was indicted today charged with the murder of George W. Thompson, 17, who was shot to death early on the morning of January 16. Mrs. Tharp, wife of Kash Tharp, a railroad worker, served as a juror at the time, claimed that young Thompson and another youth tried to force entrance into her home and that she fired through the door after warning them. The youths were said to have gone to her home by mistake.

The morning service broadcast from the British Broadcasting Corporation's station, Daventry, will be picked up daily at the church, which will be open to the congregation.

DAILY ROUGHAGE IS AN ESSENTIAL IN ANY DIET

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Effective Relief for Constipation. Also Adds Iron to the Blood

Do you suffer from constipation? Are you one of those who have tried one "vest pocket cure" after another and still have no sense of permanent relief? If so, this is big news to you! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is natural, effective relief for both temporary and recurring constipation. It is the original—and today is included in the diets of millions of people who formerly suffered from constipation.

When roughage is missing from food, constipation is the consequence. The soft foods we eat today seldom include enough roughage. The simple necessity, then, is to see to it that sufficient roughage is included in our food.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the bulk that your system requires. In addition, it is rich in iron. Scientific research proves that nearly all this iron is absorbed by the system, building red blood and bringing the glorious color of health to the complexion.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed. Your money will be returned if you are not satisfied. Be sure to include it in reducing diets as a preventive for both constipation and anemia.

There are so many ways you can eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN and enjoy it. In any form, it is appetizing. It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals and soups and notice the added flavor. Many people soak it in fruit juices. Excellent in cooked foods. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. It is served in hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Ask for it! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

For the cotton mills of New England and the south to attempt to operate full time when the consuming industries are on a two-thirds operation basis at the present time would be economic suicide, according to George A. Sloan, president of the Cotton Textile Institute of America.

DEATH VALLEY SCOTTY IS NEARLY BUSTED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 4.—(United News.)—"Death Valley" Scotty, the eccentric millionaire from the gold mines of the west, buried in his desert castle tonight intent upon recouping a fortune lost in the stock market.

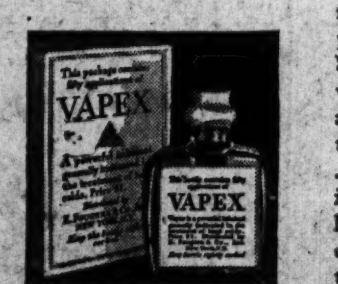

"Death Valley" Scotty, whose almost forgotten name is Walter Scott, passed through here a week ago with his announced destination. At his life he said, he had been busy taking out gold from his mine in Death Valley and then had built himself a $4,500,000 home on the sun-baked sands nearby in which to enjoy life.

But even in a swell joint like that I got lonesome," said Scotty, who several years ago achieved fame when he chartered a special train for a race against time, "just for the fun of it."

Executives present heard from Mr. Sloan, and witnessed a style show by operators from the Exposition mills, of some of the new uses to which cotton is being put today.

Much of the 17 per cent increase in finished cotton products last year, over 1928, was attributable to the cotton going into the manufacture of airplanes, auto gears, loom pickers and industrial specialties.

Former Church Treasurer Given 2 to 3 Year Term

Sentences of from two to three years was pronounced on A. A. Hall, 38, former treasurer of the Gordon Street Baptist church, Tuesday, by Judge E. D. Thomas, of Fulton superior court, when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of embezzling $2,094.32 from church funds.

William Schley Howard, counsel for Hall, urged leniency, stating that Hall did not intend to steal the money, but that he got into a tight place in business and used the money to tide him over, intending to pay it back. Howard pointed out that Hall had paid back some of the money before the shortage was revealed.

Judge Thomas set Hall's sentence, but will not sign the sentence paper until Thursday, in order that Hall may have time to wind up his personal business affairs, it was said.

Doran Says Home Brewers Will Not Be Prosecuted

No Way To Secure Legal Warrant To Discover Private Beer Vats, Says Dry Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—New Yorkers can make all the home brew they want as long as they don't sell it. Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran said today in reply to the threat of Representative LaGuardia, of New York, to produce home-made beer in his New York home to make a test case.

The commissioner pointed out that no test case could be made by LaGuardia because agents would have no right to enter his home on evidence of sale, making a "commercial valuation," and enabling them to obtain a search warrant.

"Prosecution of brewers is not considered feasible unless they sell the brew," Doran stated.

"The same practical immunity," the commissioner added, "applies to other states having no dry laws. Where there are state laws the terms of those laws and the official interpretation given to them would determine the fate of the home brewer."

Home-made wine has long enjoyed a practical immunity under federal

Liquor Violations Cost to Spalding Is $32,000 Year

GRiffin, Ga., Feb. 4.—(P)—Investigation of law enforcement in Spalding county was under consideration of the grand jury here today following a charge by Judge W. E. H. Searcy, Jr., that prohibition violations cost the county $32,000 last year.

Judge Searcy said 41.87 per cent of all cases before the court were prohibition cases and declared that violations were caused more by the otherwise best citizens of the community, who persistently and openly violate the prohibition law and remain immune, than by the actual violators themselves. This situation, he said, destroyed respect for the law.

Adding that in the city court 53 per cent of the cases were prohibition violations, Judge Searcy said that that county cases alone cost more than was expended on education.

The cost of prohibition, Judge Searcy cited, was the amount in excess of fines collected. The net cost of all law violations in the county in 1929 was $35,575.

Educational Courses Are Planned for Pen

Establishment of a series of educational courses at the Atlanta federal penitentiary under direction of Earl M. Stigers, who is expected in Atlanta this week to begin his work, was announced here Tuesday. Stigers will include both elementary subjects and higher learning, it is stated.

Mr. Stigers was formerly connected with the San Quentin prison in California, where he is said to have been very successful. The hope has been expressed that the training courses to be given here will be of great benefit to the prisoners in helping them to occupy their time and equipping them for various forms of activities after their release.

New Highway Link To Open This Week

GRiffin, Ga., Feb. 4.—(Special).—The new connecting link of the Atlanta-Macon highway running from West Taylor street to Reids' Curve, above Experiment, will be opened to traffic this week, according to highway officials here. It had been hoped that the highway could be opened by Sunday but adverse weather kept workmen from completing the job.

The new highway is some 2 1/2 miles long and connects West Taylor street with the old highway above Experiment. It eliminates every grade crossing and also the "bottle neck" at Experiment.

lots were not counted until Tuesday. A total of 64 votes was cast and Mr. Huie received 37. All officers were eligible to vote in the election.

Mr. Huie succeeds Major Charles E. Thompson, Jr., who has been advanced to the position of lieutenant colonel.

The new official is a veteran of the World War, having enlisted September 19, 1917. He was advanced from private to a second lieutenant during the war.

He served for five years as commander of Company G, Georgia national guard.

Injunction Is Issued Against Motor Act

Injunctions restraining the Georgia public service commission from applying provisions of the motor carriers' act to the Washburn Bonded Warehouse Company and E. S. Taylor, Macon storage and dry line firms, were issued Tuesday by Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy, of Fulton superior court, following hearings on temporary restraining orders.

The plaintiffs alleged that they are private carriers, not operating on a fixed route, nor between fixed terminals nor on a fixed schedule, and asked that the public service commission be restrained from enforcing the motor carriers' act on them.

A petition for an injunction to prevent William B. Harrison, comptroller general of Georgia, or the public service commission from collecting the occupation mileage tax or enforcing the motor carriers' act on the plaintiffs was filed in superior court Tuesday by a number of private draymen and transfermen. Judge Pomeroy granted a temporary restraining order and set the case for a hearing on February 15. Petitioners are listed as follows: R. L. McIntyre, A. C. White, O. P. Bullock, H. J. Davis, E. L. Smith, D. L. Smith, J. Pittman and W. B. Stephens, C. E. Peck, J. E. Hudson, F. H. Camp, Hawkins Transfer Company, Inc., T. C. West, J. M. Whittey, E. K. Smith, W. H. Buice and P. G. Harper.

Probe of Columbus Gas Prices Urged

COLUMBUS, Ga., Feb. 4.—(P)—Judge C. Frank McLaughlin upheld an investigation of prices paid for commodities in Columbus, especially with reference to the price of gasoline, in his charge to the Muscogee county grand jury here yesterday.

An inquiry into retail rates for Columbus was suggested by Judge McLaughlin, who asserted the city "has the poorest train schedule of any city in Georgia." He called for an investigation of all monies collected by taxation, and a survey of the county's penal system.

Judge McLaughlin said prohibition has been treated "as a political football." He said it is more important to prosecute the bootlegger than the person found with a half pint of whisky on his person for his own use.

An attack upon drunken drivers and a pledge of co-operation in the effort to force them off the roads also were contained in the charge.

Alleged Embezzler Challenges Jurors

GRiffin, Ga., Feb. 4.—(Special).—Challenging 14 men who had been called for service on the grand jury "related by blood or marriage to rock-rollers of the Griffin Building and Loan Association," Chester A. Byars, attorney for the association, who is charged with alleged shortages of $15,000, stated in superior court this morning that his client would not be given fair consideration by the present grand jury.

Judge W. E. H. Searcy, Jr., presiding judge of the Griffin circuit, stated that the members of the grand jury must consider their qualifications if the case is presented to them, and that if as many as 15 grand jurors did not qualify another panel must be called.

Mr. Ragsdale, former secretary of the association, is alleged to have confessed to shortages of about $15,000 from the association here. He was given a preliminary hearing before Judge W. H. Taylor and bound over to the grand jury under a bond fixed at the amount of the alleged defalcations.

Adel Man Killed By Own Automobile

ADEL, Ga., Feb. 4.—(Special).—M. M. Cowart was fatally injured here today. He cranked his car while it was in gear and it ran against him, pinning him against a post. He was removed to his home, where he died a few hours later. Mr. Cowart leaves a family.

Woman Shoots Self In Front of Mirror

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 4.—(P)—Mrs. LeMoyne Wille, 40, estranged wife of J. B. Wille, of the brokerage firm Baker & Wille of Little Rock, Ark., stood before a mirror today and shot herself to death. She had been employed in a local railroad office but had been suffering from a nervous breakdown since Christmas. Mrs. Wille lived with her mother, Mrs. Clara Whipple, on South Sixth street. Deputy Coroner Beck rendered a verdict of suicide.

HELD IN GEORGIA JAIL FOR THEFT OF PLANE

Forced Down Near Cornelia, O'Connor Arrested as Airplane Thief.

CLARKESVILLE, Ga., Feb. 4.—(P)—Milton E. O'Connor, the first man ever to be arrested here on a charge of stealing an airplane, was in the local jail today accused of larceny of a plane from Fairfax, Va.

O'Connor was arrested near Cornelia, Ga., Sunday, where he was forced to land last week because of motor trouble. He brought the plane down in a cotton field with only minor damage.

Cornelia officers investigated the landing of the plane near that city on January 28 and arrested O'Connor when he returned for it last Sunday.

Sheriff C. F. Willbanks, of Habersham county, said O'Connor was being held pending word from Virginia authorities, who have been advised of his arrest. O'Connor has not discussed the acquisition of the plane with the sheriff, he said.

Willbanks said another man with O'Connor was not arrested. His name was not learned.

The plane disappeared from Fairfax recently and landed at a Richmond, Va., airport for refueling. Officers in Richmond made a dash for the flying field but reached there in time to see the plane, with a load of fuel, taxi down a runway. Richmond officers shouted at the plane and said that one of its occupants waved at them as the plane circled the field and flew south.

Habersham county is in north Georgia's apple growing section, and is about 75 miles from Atlanta.

Doctor Is Wounded In Refusing Bandit

BREWTON, Ala., Feb. 4.—(P)—Shot by a highwayman as he and his wife emerged from their drugstore here last night, Dr. E. D. Dozier, prominent pharmacist, was in a critical condition here today.

The bullet struck Dr. Dozier over the heart. The man, believed to have been a negro, also fired at Mr. Dozier but the shot went wild and he fled into the darkness.

Mrs. Dozier was carrying a bag of money representing the day's receipts when the highwayman demanded the bag. Instead of complying, she threw the money into a patch of weeds and the negro fired. Dr. Dozier struck the bandit with his fist and in turn received a bullet.

DR. M'CAIN RETURNS Attends Funeral of Sister in Due West.

Dr. J. R. McCain, president of Agnes Scott College, Decatur, has returned from Due West, S. C., where he attended funeral services and burial of an only sister, Miss Mildred G. McCain. Miss McCain, who was professor of English at Chicago College, Columbia, S. C., died last Thursday after a lengthy illness. Services were held Saturday at Due West, where Dr. McCain's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. I. McCain reside.

In addition to her parents and brother, Miss McCain is survived by two other brothers, R. F. and Charles L. McCain. The former is in charge of anti-tuberculosis work in North Carolina. Charles L. McCain is a Birmingham, Ala., insurance man.

Clear, Cooler Weather Seen For City Today

Clearing, moderately cooler weather is on tap for Atlanta and vicinity today, according to the official forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, who anticipates a mercury drop of some 10 degrees below Tuesday's figures.

"There is nothing in the nature of extremely cold weather indicated," he stated Tuesday afternoon, "but there will be a mild temperature drop Wednesday."

Tuesday saw the mercury start from a minimum of 52 and climb to a maximum of 60 in the mid-afternoon. Today's extremes are expected to be in the neighborhood of 45 and 55.

Man Orders Supper While Flying Plane

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(P)—The day when a man may dictate a supper menu to his wife while flying home from work may not be far distant. In fact, it already has been done once.

Arriving here after a flight from New York, Dr. C. Francis Jenkins, a Washington inventor, said he had communicated to Mrs. Jenkins his taste in supper dishes as part of the test for a new type of antenna, attached to a radio-telephone outfit, while flying over Pennsylvania.

The antenna, he said, replaces the usual, hanging, lead-weighted wire, with a wire held horizontally from the ship's tail by a wind "sock." This tends, he said, to eliminate static interference from the engine.

Death Penalty Asked For Youthful Robber

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Feb. 4.—(P)—The commonwealth announced today that it will seek the death penalty for James Elmer Grayson, youthful bank robber, and contended that he was guilty of murder, regardless of which of the trio of robbers actually fired the shot that killed J. Robert Kirby.

The statement was made by John B. Rodes, special counsel for the commonwealth, in his address to the jury as the case got under way. Grayson had confessed that he and two other men robbed the bank of Oakland and about $1,500 in December, but denied that he shot Kirby, president of the Farmers' bank, at Smith's Grove, who was killed in attempting to halt the robbers' flight.

Two Men Near Death After Tramp's Attack

FULTON, Ky., Feb. 4.—(P)—Baley Huddleston, chief of police, was probably fatally stabbed and Frank Barrett, Fulton store owner, seriously wounded by an unidentified tramp here at 11 a. m. The tramp was rushed to an unnamed jail, where several hundred men threatened mob Barrett called Huddleston about 10 a. m. and reported that the tramp had stolen some cigars. He accompanied the police chief in his automobile and they followed the tramp to the railroad yards, where he was arrested. As they were driving back into town, the tramp suddenly withdrew a long knife from an inside pocket, slashed Huddleston's throat, seized his pistol and shot Barrett.

The tramp jumped from the car and fled. Huddleston lost control of the machine and it crashed into a pole. Doctors said Huddleston and Barrett probably would die from their wounds.

Police rearrested the tramp a few minutes later. He was identified by Huddleston and placed in the Fulton jail.

A crowd formed near the jail and threats were made of a lynching. Police cuffed the tramp, who refused to give his name, out a back room and took him to another town, presumably Union City, Tenn.

WHY BE AFRAID TO PAY A FAIR PROFIT?

American prosperity is built on the foundation of fair profit. The reprint appearing in this announcement, maintaining that unwarranted price-cutting is the bane of American industry, is, we believe, a true diagnosis of the difficulty.

Unwarranted price-cutting makes the realization of a fair profit on any commodity impossible. It immediately weakens the purchasing power of the Nation.

Fair profit is essential to American industry, as essential as blood is to the life of the human body. If you don't believe it, open your veins and where will you end! On a marble slab. By the same token, when you unwarrantedly open the fair profit veins of industry, where will it land? In that congested financial graveyard, the bankruptcy court.

Sewer Contract Signed, Survey Will Begin Today

Approval of Agreement Paves Way for Uninterrupted Prosecution of Work—Suit Withdrawn.

Following formal signing Tuesday of the contract between the borough of Atlanta and Whitman, Requaardt & Smith, internationally known sanitary experts of Baltimore, for a comprehensive survey of Atlanta and its environs, Gustav J. Requaardt, of the firm, announced that actual work on the sewer problem would be begun this morning.

Approval of the contract paves the way for uninterrupted prosecution of the survey and assures its rapid progress, officials of the engineering firm stated Tuesday. At the same time it was announced that Mrs. Etta Khamstine, for the past three years secretary of the Atlanta bond commission, will be secretary of the firm at its new Atlanta offices.

Headquarters have been established at the Bona Allen building, and all records of the bond commission office will be moved there. Mrs. Khamstine will continue to serve the bond commission until all its work is completed, in addition to assisting in the detail of the survey.

Mayor Signs Contract.

Mayor I. N. Raggsdale signed the contract after action of council Monday afternoon in sustaining a veto to a resolution passed by that body January 20, providing for a postponement of the survey pending disposition of an injunction suit filed by residents in the vicinity of the Peachtree creek disposal plant, asking that the courts force the borough to discontinue pollution of the stream by emptying untreated sewage into it.

Attorneys representing plaintiffs Monday afternoon addressed a communication to council agreeing to withdraw the suit without prejudice if the borough would take immediate steps to relieve what has been termed an almost intolerable condition, and council voted unanimously to file the veto, thus sustaining the mayor.

Mr. Raggsdale also addressed letters to Hoke Smith, leading attorney for complainants in the litigation, thanking him and his associates for the co-operation they extended in permitting the survey to progress.

At the same time he forwarded a letter to Mr. Requaardt instructing him to proceed at once with the work. Letter to Hoke Smith.

Text of Mr. Raggsdale's letter to Mr. Smith follows:

"Hon. Hoke Smith, 'Grant Building, Atlanta, Ga. 'Dear Mr. Smith: 'I wish to express my appreciation of the action of yourself and associates in withdrawing your injunction suit against this city of Atlanta. 'This co-operation upon your part clears the way for the sewer survey to proceed without further delay. In fact, I have signed the contract today and the company will begin work immediately.

"There is no doubt but that completion of the survey will be to the best interests of those property holders in vicinity of Peachtree creek as well as to the best interests of the entire city.

"I am sure future developments will verify the wisdom of your present co-operation.

"Very truly, 'I. N. RAGSDALE, Mayor.

Letter to Requaardt.

Text of the letter to Mr. Requaardt is as follows: 'February 4, 1930.

"Mr. Gustav J. Requaardt, 'Whitman, Requaardt & Smith, Atlanta, Ga.

"Dear Sir: 'Several days ago I directed a communication to your firm in your care, suggesting that your company suspend activity on the sewer survey for Atlanta, pending more definite conclusion of the question in city council.

"At its meeting Monday, February 3, council upheld my veto of postponement of the survey. I have signed the city's contract with your company, and wish to request that your firm proceed with the survey.

"Trusting that it will go forward without further interruption, I am 'Very truly, 'I. N. RAGSDALE, Mayor.

Letter From Attorneys.

Text of the communication which attorneys representing the property owners filed with council Monday afternoon, follows:

"February 3, 1930.

"To His Honor, the Mayor, and General Council of the City of Atlanta: 'Gentlemen:

"Re: E. V. Haynes, et al. vs. City of Atlanta.

"Following the conference this morning between the representatives of plaintiffs and the city attorney, Henderson Hallman, representing the bond commission, Mr. Saunders and others from the city council, Mr. Russell as president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and the representatives of the engineering force for the city, we have determined to accede to the request made to us to dismiss without prejudice the above stated suit.

"We accept fully the statement made to us that the city will promptly proceed with the proposed survey which can be completed in not less than a few months; that the resulting report will be in such shape that the various intolerable situations can be relieved with reasonable promptness; and that such prompt relief will be accorded.

"We reiterate our desire to co-

FARM BOARD CHAIRMAN TO ADDRESS FAIR BODY

Legge on Program of Georgia Fairs Association Annual Meeting.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Feb. 4.—

(AP)—Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board at Washington, D. C., has accepted an invitation to address the Association of Georgia Fairs at its annual meeting here February 12. Wednesday of next week, it was announced here today.

The dates of the convention, originally set for the 5th and 6th, were changed to the 12th and 13th due to Mr. Legge's inability to meet the earlier dates.

W. W. Larsen, congressman from the 12th Georgia district and member of the house committee on agriculture, has also accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the meeting. Mr. Larsen will introduce Mr. Legge. Association officials said it was due largely to Mr. Larsen's efforts that Mr. Legge was persuaded to come to Georgia.

Other prominent speakers will include: Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture of Georgia; Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the State College of Agriculture, and E. D. Rivers, president of a number of years in state legislative circles and himself a staunch believer in fairs as a means of promoting the agricultural interests of the state.

The job of guarding a $50,000 certified check is a huge and unwelcome task for officials of the borough of Atlanta, it developed Tuesday.

Following action of council Monday, B. Graham West, city comptroller, had the paper in his possession, and declared he would ask council for further instruction at its next meeting.

The check is a guarantee of good faith and performance of its contract and was filed with the borough by the Dinkler Hotel Company, Inc., when the firm agreed to lease the present site of the city hall for 65 years and to erect a building on the tract costing not less than $2,500,000.

It was filed with City Clerk Walter C. Taylor until Monday, but that official decided council should direct the disposition of the check, and took it to the body and asked for instructions.

On a motion, it was filed with Mr. West, and now Mr. West advances the opinion that the check should be cashed and the money invested in some solid security. Under the agreement, the fund can not be spent by the borough but must remain intact, unless the hotel company fails to perform its contract.

Atlanta, however, was $20,870 richer Tuesday in real American money which can be expended, following payment by the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company of that amount for 1929 gross receipts taxes. A tax of one per cent of the gross receipts is levied on all public utilities.

Prison Commission Denies That Convicts 'Run Loose'

Counts, Slayer of Policeman, Escaped From Soldiers' Home, Watchman's Affidavit Says.

The state prison commission Tuesday entered a denial to the charge of James L. Beavers, chief of police, that Willie Counts, negro convict who last Saturday night killed a policeman, and other convicts assigned to the Confederate Soldiers' Home are "turned loose on the streets at night."

In a letter addressed to Chief Beavers, Judge E. L. Rainey, chairman of the prison board, said that the commission was "unable to agree with statements that prisoners are allowed to run at large at night."

He said that Counts was locked up as usual Saturday night and escaped. Judge Rainey's letter incorporated an affidavit by J. C. Dodgen, night watchman at the soldiers' home, that he had locked up the convicts assigned to the home last Saturday night. About 1:45 a. m. Sunday, he said, Counts was brought to the home wounded.

Dodgen's affidavit said that "he went at once and examined the room in which the said Counts had been confined and found that he had escaped by breaking out through a window, the bars of which must have been pried open by some implement such as a pin-bar which had either probably been secreted in the room during the day or had help from the outside."

"These convicts were duly confined as usual and the said Willie Counts was simply an escaped convict when the fearful tragedy of the killing of Officer Crankshaw occurred," the affidavit concluded.

Colonel R. C. Lawrence, state pension commissioner and chairman of the board of trustees of the home, and J. B. Strong, acting superintendent of the home, issued a statement saying that "nothing could be further from the actual facts."

Convicts assigned to the home, the statement said, are "confined as other convicts. They are locked up every night at 8 o'clock and are kept confined until 4 in the morning."

"Counts broke out of confinement with a pin-bar or some such implement or else he had help from the outside," the statement added.

Police said Tuesday that Counts confessed at the hospital that he had planned to rob the soda fountain. He fired on Crankshaw when the officer saw him in the soda fountain with some object in his hip pocket.

Georgia Council Of K. P. To Meet

COLUMBUS, Ga., Feb. 4.—(AP)—A meeting of the advisory council of the Grand Lodge of Georgia Knights of Pythias will be held in Macon tomorrow at 10 a. m., it was announced here today. The meeting is preliminary to the grand lodge meeting in Macon in May. The Columbus district will be represented by Grand Prelate C. C. Wall of Ellaville; John C. Butt, of Buena Vista, finance chairman, and W. H. Raymond, Don C. Parker, J. O. Willis and F. S. Monk, all of Columbus.

R. C. HOFFMAN SPEAKS

Discusses Recent Arrival of Natural Gas in Atlanta.

R. C. Hoffman, vice president of the Southern Cities Service Company, who was principal speaker Tuesday at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at Hotel Ansley, discussed the recent arrival of natural gas in Atlanta, pointing out the advantages which accrue to the domestic consumer from its use, and enlarging on the industrial opportunities made possible by the new, economical fuel.

The program was arranged by John McCubbins, who introduced first Billy Beard, premier vaudeville entertainer. Mr. Beard, an Atlantan, is always a favorite in his stage appearances here and was at his best Tuesday. Community singing was conducted by Forrest Traylor and Arthur Falkenburg. John S. Shaw, president of the club, presided.

MIAMI CLEAN-UP OPENS IN EARNEST

New City Manager Declares
He Will Stop All Gambling.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—City, county and federal authorities stepped in today for a three-cornered investigation of alleged flagrant violations of Florida and federal statutes in the metropolitan area.

Aroused by complaints that gambling houses were open in Miami proper, City Manager Frank H. Wharton, appointed last Friday, banged his fist upon a table to declare that "gambling houses in Miami will be closed tighter than hell."

Sheriff M. P. Lehmann, following the lead of the city manager, sent a party of deputies to the Miami Jockey Club's Hialeah race track to investigate reports of gambling. The sheriff's chief deputy, D. C. Coleman, said tonight that no arrests had been reported to him.

"The deputies went to the track, but I have nothing to say about it," he said. "There may be an announcement later."

Possible padlocking of a metropolitan Miami hotel, for the first time in the area's history, was seen in an order issued today by Federal Judge Halsted Ritter to proprietors of the exclusive Wofford hotel, at Miami Beach, to show cause why the hotel should not be padlocked for violations of federal prohibition laws.

As a sidelight on the situation, sheriff's deputies late today raided a Miami Beach home to seize 100 cases of assorted and choice liquors. They found no one at the house and made no arrests, but confiscated a list of names which they said included many wealthy winter colony residents.

Six Negroes Held For Cotton Thefts

DECATUR, Ga., Feb. 4.—(Special.)—Arrest of six negroes by Decatur county police on charges of stealing cotton was announced Tuesday. Officers claimed that the arrests broke up a cotton stealing ring which has been active in the county for some time.

Forry Myrick and John Pitts, of Decatur, were arrested on charges of stealing cotton from J. C. Grant, near Doraville. McDaniel is said to have confessed and his story resulted in the arrests of Joe Graham, Robert Stewart and Burgess Cox, all of Chamblee. All six negroes are held under $1,000 bond each on charges of larceny of cotton.

$500 will be paid for the best advice telling this girl which of six men she should marry! Help her decide. Be sure to get Sunday's Constitution. You may win a prize.

ITS TASTE DECLARES IT IS WORKING

If PEBECO tooth paste didn't taste so distinctive you'd probably not realize that it is doing something none other can do. Road Board To Be 'In Clear' By March 27, Tate States

$1,844,000 of Obligations May Be Paid Up by End of This Month, Chairman Says.

The state highway board now has $1,844,000 of due obligations, Colonel Sam Tate, highway board chairman, said Tuesday, in announcing that the debt might be retired by the end of this month, and stating positively that it would be paid by March 27.

The active road building program of the board will begin as soon as its obligations have been met.

Of the present indebtedness, Colonel Tate said, $750,000 is due the counties; $337,000 is in assignments to banks; $112,000 to contractors; and $645,000 in small bills to firms over the state.

The chairman said that a great many delegations have appeared before the board since he assumed the chairmanship last June, insisting upon steps toward construction in the several counties, but that the board has held to its policy to liquidate its debts before any new construction would be attempted.

$2,000,000 Loan Declined. A few months ago, Colonel Tate announced that $2,000,000 of contracts probably would be let in each of the months of January, February and March. He explained that this was predicated on the assumption that the courts would uphold the Barrett highway loan act, which authorized the governor to borrow $2,000,000 for highway obligations. The supreme court divided evenly in its opinion as to constitutionality of the act, and attorneys for banks declined to approve the loan.

The chairman said the idea of borrowing $2,000,000 in this manner had to be abandoned and the board was forced to continue its policy of paying up back debts before proceeding with new work.

Debts Would Have Been Paid. Colonel Tate declared that for a year Georgia has had $2,000,000 to its credit with the federal road bureau, to become available when this state could match it with a like amount of unencumbered funds. Had the proposed loan under the Barrett act been negotiated, he added, the board could have matched this federal aid fund, which was its plan, so that $4,000,000 would have been available to build federal aid roads.

The $2,000,000 loan would have retired past due debts, he said, and left the board's income available to be used in matching federal money, instead of which it has been necessary to use the income to apply on old debts.

Colonel Tate has said repeatedly that when the board has retired its debts new road building will begin.

Decatur Thanks Atlanta Borough For Water Gift

Scott Candler, mayor of the borough of Decatur, Tuesday issued a formal statement of thanks to the borough of Atlanta for contributing water used by Decatur during an emergency the latter part of January.

Monday afternoon the council of the borough of Atlanta approved a request of Alderman Claude Ashley, chairman of the water committee of council, asking that the bill Atlanta might make against the Decatur borough be canceled. The paper was sanctioned Tuesday by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale of the borough of Atlanta.

"We feel very grateful to the borough of Atlanta and its officials for the fine co-operative spirit which was demonstrated in assisting us to meet the emergency caused by the broken mains in Decatur," Mr. Candler said. "When we called on officials of the borough of Atlanta they responded with a readiness for which we wish to extend our most cordial thanks."

There are three large mains in Decatur and one of them broke. In attempting to meet the demands for water supply in Decatur, the other two mains were overloaded and one of them broke. Atlanta supplemented the water supply for several hours while repairs were being made.

NEW PROOF OF CLAIM FILED IN ADAIR CASE

Amendment of Globe Indemnity Co. Charges $6,000,000 Indebtedness.

An amendment to the proof of claim of the Globe Indemnity Company against the Adair Realty and Trust Company charging indebtedness of approximately $6,000,000 was filed in federal court Tuesday. A decision on the matter is expected from Judge Samuel H. Sibley in the near future.

Following the filing of the original bankruptcy petition of the Adair company in March, 1927, the Globe company filed a proof of claim which later was upheld by Judge Harry Dodd, bankruptcy referee.

In a ruling on the case in November of last year, Judge Sibley held that "the entire claim should not have been allowed" and gave directions that the matter should be reopened. A motion for rehearing was filed a little over two weeks later.

The original petition of the Adair company showed liabilities of more than $4,000,000 and assets of less than $3,000,000.

Insurance Suit Won By Local Surgeon. A jury in federal court, before Judge Samuel H. Sibley, by its verdict Tuesday decided an interesting point in insurance law.

Dr. Willard Earl Quillian, Atlanta surgeon, who was injured in an automobile accident in 1926, brought suit against General Accident Fire & Life Assurance Corporation, Ltd., for the weekly indemnity which he claimed for partial disability under the terms of an accident insurance policy issued to him by that company.

The company defended on the ground that since Dr. Quillian had actually lost no time from the practice of his profession there was no such partial disability there as was contemplated by the terms of the policy.

After a trial lasting nearly two days, the jury decided against the contention of the company, awarding the plaintiff the full amount sued for, $5,737.50, together with interest. Dr. Quillian's attorneys were Howell, Heyman & Bolding and W. P. Bloodworth, while the defendant company was represented by W. O. Wilson and the firm of McDaniel, Neely & Marshall.

"Gas and 'sour' stomach can now be corrected without the use of burning, irritating soda, or vicious, habit-forming cathartics."

Calcium Carbonate, (2 1/2 times as effective as soda) in tablet form, is the ideal anti-acid: sure, swift and positive in its relief, yet safe in its use. It is the only remedy which does not upset the acid equilibrium of the body and is incapable of over-dosage.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are Calcium Carbonate in its best and most convenient form, blended with other valuable substances. That's why we urge their use as the only kind for children, and best for men and women.

Neuralgic Pains Stopped by Capudine

Capudine quickly relieves the neuralgic headaches, rheumatic pains, and the aches accompanying colds that make life so miserable for so many people, especially during the winter months. It soothes the tense nerves, quickly stops the pain and affords peaceful relaxation. Being liquid, Capudine acts almost instantly—much quicker than tablets and powders.

What Made This Doctor Famous?

ONE'S HEALTH is the most important thing in life. When you suffer from any annoying symptom, feel rundown and discouraged, why don't you write for free medical advice—no matter what your ailment may be—to Dr. Pierce's Clinic in Buffalo, N. Y.? Dr. R. V. Pierce organized this clinic in Buffalo, in the 70's, and built the Invalids Hotel and Surgical Institute, which is so well known all over the United States.

One tonic which Dr. Pierce used over and over, was a prescription which he found was so successful in rebuilding and strengthening women that he later put it up in ready-to-use form. It is called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and has brought health and strength to hundreds of women right here in this town and everywhere. It can be had in tablet or liquid form, at all good drug stores. Send 10c for trial package of the tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, 665 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.—(adv.)

Nickels and Dimes Do Count!

THE WOOLWORTH BUILDING topping New York's skyline typifies only one of many great business successes which explode the illusion that nickels and dimes do not amount to much.

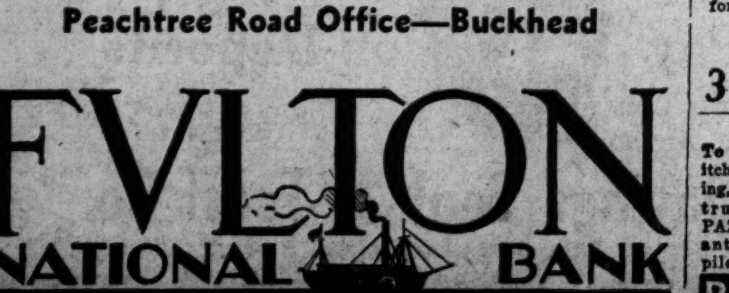

Those people who never learned to save a portion of their income never seem to get full value for their money, no matter how large their earnings.

It is remarkable how dollars at interest accumulate when you have a savings account at "The Friendly National Bank," now the third largest bank in Georgia.

Board To Consider School Situation

A special meeting of the state board of education has been called by Governor L. G. Hardman for Wednesday, February 12, to consider the present financial situation of the state schools, which was the subject of the report made by the state superintendent.

Dr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools, said that he had asked the governor to call the meeting in the hope that some means could be found to encourage the counties to keep the common schools open.

Dr. Duggan said that he had received word from Governor Hardman that as soon as the remaining school debt, $470,000 due on February 28, was paid and he had received more complete reports of sales tax receipts, he would give his attention to the situation of the schools.

"As soon as this (the sales tax returns) can be ascertained and the balance of the debt paid I shall be glad to see what can be arranged in regard to borrowing money. I am anxious to do everything I can for the teachers," the governor was quoted as saying.

True Bill Returned In 'Lottery' Case

An indictment charging "maintenance of lottery devices" was returned Tuesday by the Fulton county grand jury against DeForest Jenner as the first move of the solicitor-general's office toward a test case.

Judge Samuel H. Sibley, of federal court, has held up decision of Jenner's petition for injunction to restrain local authorities from interfering with operation of his machines, pending outcome of the test case.

In the indictment Jenner is charged with maintenance of lotteries, or "nickel-in-the-slot" machines, at 217 Mitchell, S. W., and 704 Ponce de Leon, N. E. In his petition to federal court Jenner said that his machines were candy vending and fortune telling machines and offered no opportunity for gambling.

Man Found Guilty Of Manslaughter

On a consent verdict of voluntary manslaughter, Clarence Field Monday was sentenced by Judge Virlyn R. Moore, of Fulton superior court, to serve from three to five years for the slaying of Ruby Chambliss. The defendant had been indicted for murder. The woman was killed on December 23.

Alleged Rum Maker Brought to Atlanta

A long trip from California ended Tuesday for Lester Williams when he was brought here to answer charges of violating the prohibition laws in 1923. He maintains his complete innocence, but government agents claim that he was recognized by those working at a still during a raid near Bowdon, Ga., in 1923.

BC Relieves Sick Headaches in 3 minutes

When one of those sick, raging headaches come and you want three-minute relief, go to any drug store or soda font and ask for a package or dose of "B-C" (10c and 25c packages), the wonderful new preparation of a North Carolina druggist that is guaranteed safe and speedy, without depression or bad after effects.

"B-C" relieves any kind of a headache, sciatic, neuralgic, or toothache, that function together for the relief of pain, regardless of its origin. The "B-C" formula is one of the most important medical discoveries of recent years, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one drug formula can do under 10 to 8 hours.

To avoid imitative substitutes, don't ask for a "headache powder," but specify and insist upon "B-C" and get the original and genuine that never fails to bring quick and comforting relief.

G. F. Wells To Get School Contract

G. F. Wells, of Hapeville, is low bidder on the Grove Park grammar school, and Daniel & Beutell, architects, have been instructed to draw up a contract with Wells for construction of the school at a price of $93,812. It was announced Tuesday afternoon following a meeting of the Fulton county board of education.

Wells submitted the bid following: G. F. Wells, $93,812; O. T. Hennessey, $70,000; Yost Construction Company, $76,150; J. F. Higdon, $76,400; H. J. Turnipseed, $78,926; Capital Construction Company, $79,395; J. S. McCauley, $79,539; Crockett & Spruill, $81,390; and W. P. Francis.

The board authorized Jere A. Wells, county superintendent, and W. F. Dykes, principal of Fulton High school, to attend the meeting of the department of superintendents of the National Education Association on February 22 in Atlantic City, N. J. The meeting will last for a week.

Campaign Is Opened By Real Estate Men

Launching of a membership campaign by the Atlanta Real Estate board got off to an impressive start Tuesday morning when about 200 real estate men of the city assembled at a special meeting held under auspices of the local board in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Principal addresses were delivered by Alvin B. Cates, president of the Atlanta realtors; C. R. C. Goodpasture, chairman of the Senate Avenue Church of Christ, and Robert Troutman, prominent Atlanta attorney.

The talks explained the activities of the local realtor board and pointed out the advantages for the city in having a large, well organized board, as well as the importance to the real estate profession of close cooperation on the part of its members.

Launching of the membership drive was well received and a spirit of optimism pervaded the large gathering. Following the initial session, 15 applications for membership in the local board were received.

Local Money Order Records Are Broken

All former records for a single day's clearance in the money order division of the Atlanta postoffice went by the boards Tuesday when a mark of $365,835.79 was established. This exceeds the previous peak day, $222,835.79, on February 5 of last year, by more than $140,000, postoffice officials said.

The last minute rush for automobile tags was given as the principal reason for the enormous business as approximately $230,000 of Tuesday's business was from the office of the secretary of state.

Port Arthur Seeks Zoning Information

From distant Port Arthur Tuesday came an appeal for information addressed to City Clerk Walter C. Taylor, of the borough of Atlanta, and it was turned over to R. W. Torres, engineering secretary of the city planning commission for action.

J. Kanda, director of the administration bureau of that city, is seeking facts and figures concerning operation of the planning and zoning department of the borough of Atlanta as a model on which to build a similar local structure.

All available information will be furnished as soon as possible, Mr. Torres said.

Nisley Shoe Co. President Here

R. W. Lee, president of the Nisley Shoe Company, of Columbus, Ohio, which operates a store here at 68 Whitehall street, was in Atlanta Tuesday conferring with Ed Leake, the local manager.

The Nisley Company operates a chain of forty-seven retail stores, located in the principal cities throughout the United States, and two factories.

Mr. Lee is en route to Florida for a short vacation. He is a golf enthusiast and holds the Ohio state championship.

England Holds Man Who 'Found' Bomb

LONDON, February 4.—(P)—Frank Biggs, the man who actually found the "bomb" which created a scare in the British museum Saturday night, has been detained by Scotland Yard and will be charged with an offense under the explosive substances act. It is understood that though the bomb contained some explosives it was incapable of doing damage, being little more than a house-made firecracker. Biggs is charged with "having in his possession explosive substance in such circumstances as to give rise to reasonable suspicion he did not have it in his possession for a lawful object."

$13,824,798.04 IS PAID TO U. S. BY GEORGIANS

Figures for 1929 Show Decrease of $1,000,000 Compared With 1928.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.—(Special).—Total internal revenue receipts in Georgia last year, representing federal tax payments due from the previous year's business, amounted to $13,824,798.04, according to a report made public today by the treasury department.

The figures represent a decrease of slightly less than $1,000,000 in comparison with similar payments in 1928. Of the total collections in Georgia, $13,297,419.53 was derived from income tax sources, with the remainder attributed to miscellaneous taxes. Corporations paid the greater part of the income tax in the state, or $8,730,212.51, compared with $9,505,773 in 1928.

While receipts from corporation income tax decreased, there was a substantial increase in collections on individual income tax returns. The figures for 1929 were $4,507,206.72, as against $4,347,876.33 in 1928.

Today's treasury report contains the first state figures on collections in 1929.

Wife of Director Sues for Divorce

NICE, France, Feb. 4.—(P)—Mrs. Frederick Alan Crosland, wife of the motion picture director, applied for a divorce today in Nice, France, divorced her motion picture husband here on April 12, 1927. Later they were reconciled.

The reconciliation took place before the interlunary decree became final. After three months of correspondence between Mrs. Crosland in Westchester, N. Y., and Crosland here, Mrs. Crosland rejoined her husband on June 11, 1928. "He's the best husband in the world and I know we will always be happy together," she said at that time.

Southern Solons Seek Seed Loans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(P)—A delegation of senators and representatives from southern states requested President Hoover today to overrule the budget bureau on the estimate made for seed and fertilizer loans to farmers in storm-stricken areas in Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

Efforts have been made to secure re-enactment of the bill which appropriated $8,000,000 for the purpose last year. Most of the fund has been returned. Hearings were held before the house agriculture committee, but the budget bureau reduced the amount to $3,000,000 and they were suspended. The delegation included Senators Simmons, North Carolina; Smith, South Carolina; Representatives Warren, of North Carolina; Crisp, of Georgia; McDuffie, of Alabama; and Ruth Bryan Owen, of Florida, all democrats.

NEGRO BOY WOUNDED

His Alleged Attempt To Steal Pigeons Causes Broken Thigh

His alleged attempt late Tuesday afternoon to rob the pigeonhouse of Dr. F. J. Guiffreda, of 735 Washington street, S. W., landed Robert Benton, 9-year-old negro, of 92 Glenn street, at Grady hospital, with a compound fracture of his right thigh, according to police reports.

Investigating a noise he heard near his pigeonhouse late Monday afternoon, Dr. Guiffreda, who said it had been visited before, fired a small caliber pistol at the negro when he saw him near the house. One shot entered the right thigh.

Robert said that three other negroes have been his accomplices in periodic visits to refrigerators of residents of that section, when eggs and butter and other foods are alleged to have been taken. Detectives Blair and Whitley were assigned to bring in his alleged confederates.

Georgia College Placement Office Adds Two New Divisions to Its Activities

Three young women on duty in the new quarters of the Georgia college placement office, which Tuesday expanded its work to take in two new departments serving colleges, business firms and graduates. They are, top, left, Miss Ruth K. Jolly; top, right, Mrs. W. F. Askew, and bottom, right, Miss Mary W. Jones. Bottom, left, is R. J. Thieson, president of the placement office.

The Georgia College Placement office, moving into new offices in the Mortgage Guaranty building Tuesday, begins an expansion of its activities with the distinction of being the only organization in the world with all information and aid for colleges, students and businessmen desiring to employ college graduates centered in one place.

With removal from its former headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building, announcement is made of two new divisions of activity and of the addition to the placement office staff of Miss Mary W. Jones, of Waycross, in charge of the department of information, and of Miss Ruth K. Jolly, formerly of St. Louis, but well known in Atlanta, in charge of student loan and self-help activities.

Mrs. W. F. Askew, secretary of placements, who finds jobs for young graduates and graduates for jobs, continues at the post she has held for three years. Officers of the Georgia college placement office are R. J. Thieson, president; W. D. Hooper, vice president; Kendall Weisiger, president; W. Henry Smith, treasurer. The executive committee is composed of Cator Woolford, Dr. G. C. White, Professor W. D. Hooper, Kendall Weisiger, Dr. J. R. McCain, R. J. Thieson and W. Henry Smith.

There are two advisory committees, that on industry being composed of Cator Woolford, Kendall Weisiger, Charles F. Stone, Mark C. Pope, Jr., Dr. F. C. White, H. McFee, Frank H. Neely, L. W. Robert, Jr., Harold Hirsch and W. Henry Smith. The college advisory committee is composed of Dr. D. C. White, dean of Emory University; Professor W. D. Hooper, University of Georgia; Dr. J. R. McCain, president Agnes Scott; Dr. William F. Quillian, president Wesleyan College; Dr. W. D. Furry, president Shorter College; Dr. H. J. Pearce, president Brenau College; and R. J. Thieson, secretary National Georgia Tech Alumni Association.

With expansion of the Placement office which has been operating since 1924, and the addition of new personnel, a connecting link between the Georgia colleges, students and graduates and businessmen has been forged. Mrs. Askew, placement secretary, is the liaison between industry, business, and the colleges. Her department approximately 100 leading concerns list their openings and specify the kind of employees they want. There is no expense to the concern or to the college graduate. "Girl graduates," Mrs. Askew said, "are more and more seeking business employment. We are placing many in advertising work, with publishing houses and in secretarial positions." The student loan and self help division, in charge of Miss Jolly, has collected information pertaining to all loans which are obtainable and a list of the number and kind of self help jobs open in the various Georgia colleges. She recently completed a survey of several leading eastern institutions and foundations, in which she ascertained that from a fifth to a third of all eastern college students are helping pay their expenses through college by work.

"Self-supporting agencies for students," Miss Jolly said, "are organized that any one wanting an education now can buy it with his or her own efforts." Miss Jones keeps information relating to the colleges, scholarships, curriculum and the requirements of students. She also directs the publicity for the placement office.

Power From Ocean Interests Hoover

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(P)—A proposal to generate electric power from the movement of the tides has become a question of international concern. President Hoover asked congress today for $45,000 to defray half the cost of a joint investigation by the United States and Canada into the probable effect upon fisheries of damming the Passamaquoddy and Cobscook bays in Maine and New Brunswick. This would be one of the links in the project.

In a letter accompanying the recommendation, Acting Secretary Cotton of the state department explained that American corporation, headed by Dexter P. Cooper, of Eastport, Maine, had been working on plans to generate electric power from the movement of the tides in these bays.

Murder Is Charged To Rogers Sanford

Murder of Sam Nissen, proprietor of a grocery at 477 Connally street, on January 10, during a pitched battle with three negro bandits, was charged Tuesday to Rogers Sanford in an indictment returned by the Fulton county grand jury. Sanford is charged with shooting Nissen with a pistol, acting jointly with persons who are to the grand jury unknown. Nissen was fatally wounded during the shooting at the store, and died at Grady hospital.

Assault To Murder Policeman Charged

Indictments charging Arthur Palmer with assault with intent to murder Patrolman W. D. Nash, who is attached to the Grady hospital emergency clinic, and James Rice, of 87 Armstrong street, were returned Tuesday by the Fulton county grand jury. Palmer is charged with striking Nash with a pistol wielded as a club, and with shooting at Officer Nash. Palmer also was indicted on a charge of possessing half a gallon of whiskey.

For COLDS

We all catch colds and they can make us miserable; but yours needn't last long if you will do this: Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin just as soon as possible after a cold starts. Stay in the house if you can—keep warm. Repeat with another tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin every three or four hours, if those symptoms of cold persist. Take a good laxative when you retire, and keep bowels open. If throat is sore, dissolve three tablets in a quarter-glassful of water and gargle. This soothes inflammation and reduces infection. There is nothing like Bayer Aspirin for a cold, or sore throat. And it relieves aches and pains almost instantly. The genuine tablets, marked Bayer, are absolutely harmless to the heart.

Jackets Beat A. A. C. and End Club's Long Winning Streak; Crackers Will Open 1930 Season in Chattanooga April 15; Brooklyn Club 'War' Ends as Robinson Resigns Presidency

Out in front of the palms on the sun-kissed sands of Miami Beach a bevy of homely newspapermen from New York and Boston were lounging yesterday—that is, they should have been according to the precedent set in the training period before the Stribling-Sharkey bout a year ago.

They were, according to precedent, debating the news of the day in the boxing world; all of them are ring "experts" and talked little else.

And, having read the dictum of Gene Tunney, synthetic intellectual, former ear-mangler: "I have nothing to say to any sports writer," they no doubt were discussing it.

I would have liked to hear them re-open on Tunney, the pug. They would have revived all the droll stories about the grotesque prize fighter whose delusions of grandeur have never been matched outside pages of fiction.

Bill Cunningham would have related in round senatorial phrases the time he asked Gene about a stone bruise and Gene's extravagantly formal reply.

And by the cocktail hour, the most amusing character the ring ever produced would have been panned to a crisp.

Gene Tunney achieved the record of quitting the fight game leaving more cordial detestation behind him than any champion that ever lived. His memory never will die as long as men detest an ego-maniac.

YOUNG MEN WILL TALK.

The bill introduced in the Kentucky legislature by an alumnus of Centre college to prohibit the university from playing football games outside the state, as punishment for breaking athletic relations with Centre recently, lies dormant in the basket of the fish and game committee.

But the comic incident has led to a deal of discussion of Centre college and the days of her football glory. It led yesterday to the re-telling at the Atlanta Athletic Club of how Georgia Tech managed to beat Centre so handily on Grant field in 1920.

Robert A. (Kid) Clay, en route to Cambridge to scout Centre in the Harvard game a week before Centre played Tech, wandered into the smoking room of his Pullman and heard a young man explaining a lot of football to the traveling men.

Scout Clay sat down quietly and lit a cigarette. He soon gathered the young man was a substitute fullback on the Centre team who had been allowed to go early to Cambridge to visit relatives. The youngster was airing his knowledge of football before an appreciative audience. How appreciative he did not realize.

Scout Clay finally drew the young man out, professing ignorance of football strategy, and learned that Bo McMillin exploited the errors in the enemy's defense. Bo called signals deliberately, sizing up the defensive set of his foes. If a man was out of position, Bo aimed the play that way every time. That, declared the young fullback, was the secret of the success of the Centre attack. The young man even drew diagrams of what he was talking about.

AND TECH WON.

Coach Clay had very little scouting to do in the stadium. The next week while the Centre players were frolicking at Niagara Falls delaying their invasion of Atlanta and taking no work at all, the Yellow Jackets were drilled in a movable defense.

For instance, Bill Fincher played wide until McMillin had finished calling signals, then moved quickly into normal position before the play started. The defensive halfbacks likewise decoyed Bo into throwing passes into their zones.

Poorly prepared and roundly outguessed, Centre was beaten badly. Their newspaper followers turned to the "rough play" stories to comfort a disillusioned constituency back home.

FEED-BOX DOPE ON BABE.

From our liaison officer in New York city: "Babe Ruth has not signed his contract but his holding out is not serious. If he signed his contract now at an increased figure it would have a bad effect as far as club owners are concerned. Not only the Yankees but all magnates would have trouble signing their other players who are asking increases and are not going to get them. Ruth will sign a contract in Florida in March more than likely. FOR ONE YEAR."

Tilden, Fraulein Win Tournament

CANNES, France, Feb. 4.—(P)—Bill Tilden, paired with Cecilie Aussem, of Germany, defeated Joan Ridley, of England, and Louis Worms by scores of 6-3, 7-5 today in the mixed doubles final of the Cannes tennis tournament.

Tilden won men's singles honors yesterday.

Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, French tennis stars, won the men's doubles final of the tournament by default today from Big Bill Tilden and his partner, Charles Kingsley.

Kingsley was unable to play because of a serious injury to his hand which he suffered yesterday. He may be incapacitated for several weeks.

Carnera Opponent Is Fined $1,000

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—(P)—The Illinois State Athletic commission today fined Eliazar Rioux, French-Canadian heavyweight boxer from Montreal, $1,000 and suspended him indefinitely for making an unsatisfactory showing against Primo Carnera, Italian, at the stadium Friday night. No action was taken against Carnera, the commission holding him blameless.

After questioning all principals of the match or their representatives, the commission concluded there was no evidence of a conspiracy for Rioux to take a "diver," but that he was so frightened at Carnera's size and reputation as a mauler that he was unable to fight.

As the result of the decision the stadium was ordered to pay Carnera his share of the purse, estimated at $16,000. Rioux's fine was taken from his $3,000 purse.

JACKETS UPSET ATHLETIC CLUB QUINTET, 31-29

A. A. C. Bows To Tech After Winning Eighteen Straight Games.

By Herb Clark.

Speeding through a first half battle and a second half session of basketball, Georgia Tech's Yellow Jacket basketball team trimmed the Atlanta Athletic Club quintet, 31-29, on the club court Tuesday night.

Eighteen straight victories with not the shadow of a scare of defeat to disturb dreams of glories past and future, and then a licking administered by what was to all intents and purposes Georgia Tech's second team. That is the story of Coach Joe Bean's Atlanta Athletic Club quintet.

Three victories in seven games, and rated very, very low in the conference, and then a spanking victory over Atlanta's leading basketball team. That is the story of Coach Roy Mumford's Georgia Tech quintet.

TECH OPENS SCORING. The Jackets won by a slim two points. That does not tell the story. The Jackets opened the scoring as little Josh Wilson cracked down from two points from the corner of the court. Frank Player evened the count with almost the duplicate of Wilson's efforts.

The battle waged back and forth throughout the first half. The lead changed hands with almost every shot, though the clubbers did manage to creep four points in the last half of the first half.

The lead changed hands with almost every shot, though the clubbers did manage to creep four points in the last half of the first half.

JUMBLED LINEUPS. Both coaches had jumbled lineups. Bean's varsity, that which owned most of the title to the record, was warmed up between the halves, and it seemed hardly possible that the long-downed Jackets could hope to come through with the honors.

The Jackets did, however. They evened the score, then went into a one-point lead, and the second half opened. And from that point until midway of the last half the lead was in the balance.

With five minutes to go "Big Cy" Bell stretched out to drop in two points which tied the count. Jack Warner made good a free try, and then Ted Raines took the ball on an accurate pass to sink a basket. Ideas had begun to come to the fans. Slowly, for this was an unforeseen thing, the club was not expected to lose, but the gallery was seeing just that.

And when the last point, a foul, fell to the lot of Dee Brewer and was followed shortly by the final whistle, the full significance had not yet dawned upon the fans.

A PLEASING BATTLE. It was a battle to please the lovers of the hard-wood game. A ding-dong affair, with brilliant stops and brilliant shots abounding; with the lead changing hands over and over.

And it was hardly a Jacket victory which did the work of shattering a most beautiful record. The front line was of the stock which has plenty of service this year. Alternate Captain Josh Wilson teamed with Hank Heeke at the forward berth, and Ted Raines jumped center. Vance Maree and Jack Warner started as guards, and all but finished. Sid Goldin was the only Jacket substitution, and he went in for the sole reason that Maree was out. The big brunette had committed four personal fouls and was persona non grata for the moment. Goldin had but little over a minute of action, however.

WILSON STARS. Little Josh Wilson cracked off the major share of the laurels for the evening. The slender and fast forward was all over the court, and all over Coach Bean's players when they had thoughts of shooting. And he slipped out from under when he decided that the Jackets needed points, gathering 15 points during the game.

Hank Heeke, bobbing around the court, passing accurately and hawking the ball with both will and skill, proved an able assistant.

Ted Raines, doing a bit of personal shattering by slicing a bit of the glamour attached to "Big Cy" Bell's reputation as a center, was another big cog in the Jacket machine.

Jack Warner, taking over the floor game duties for the fray, broke up many a club thrust and helped put over several Tech assaults.

MAREE ON THE JOB. And "Plug" Maree, playing better ball than he has shown since he first donned the Tech uniform, held the inner fort like a veteran and took his share of the floor game. Sid Goldin, relieving him just before the final whistle, was his usual self, acting as field general and slowing up the Beamen's point-getting ideas.

The entire Jacket squad was at a peak for the game. It is quite possible that the Engineers have turned over a new leaf. It is not too much to hope, in view of their showing last night, that they will cause plenty of trouble on the road, swings which are to keep them occupied with conference foes for the next two weeks.

MCCRODY DYNAMITE. Joe McCrody, that short bit of basketball dynamite, was the main one in the club attack. He played a fine floor game, directed the club attack, and did a great job at guarding. Pat Stephens got his share of the points, and "Big Cy" Bell worked machine-like to speed the club attack.

Coach Bean started Player, Mike Hudson and Stumpy Thompson, ex-Jackets all, with Virgil Moore and "Little Cy" Bell.

Wayne 'Big' Munn Unable To Keep Chin Covered Up

By Al Demaree, Former Pitcher New York Giants.

Wayne (Big) Munn, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, also had aspirations to become a box fighter. Built on mastodon specifications (he was six feet, six inches tall and weighed 260 pounds), he should have theoretically made a great heavy-weight, but he couldn't keep his jaw away from the other fellow's fist.

"I often wondered until I fought Andre Anderson just why they called a squared arena a ring," he said, "but after a few seconds it was no longer a mystery to me. After the first round, when I had taken a flock of gloves on the button, I couldn't see my corner, and in the next round I couldn't see any of the other corners."

"They sure named it right when they called it a ring."

WOLFPACK FIVE BEATS GEORGIA

Bulldogs Lead at Half But Erratic Play Costs 28-24 Decision.

By "Buck" Anderson.

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 4.—A Wolfpack and a kennel of Bulldogs went at each other tooth and toenail to-night in a basketball game on Woodruff Hall court, and the Wolfpack, better known as the North Carolina State basketball team, emerged victorious over the Bulldogs, sometimes ruff Hall court, and the Wolfpack basketball team, by a score of 28-24.

The Pack, Southern conference champions, led the majority of the game, and flashed a brilliant offense and a mediocre defense to defeat a canine team which did not quite come up to the standards it has set in other games of this season. The Bulldogs were ahead at the half, 16-15, however, and prospects were looking brighter than they did toward the last stages of the fray.

GEORGIA WILD. Georgia's shots were erratic, and the Bulldogs players tried more than their share of long shots, in an effort to pull to the forefront. They continually missed shots, and free throws were, in many cases, unneeded.

Their playing was good at times, however, and toward the end of the game they seemed about to tie the score, but they were done in the past games, but they didn't quite make it.

TAKE LEAD.

State took the lead soon after the beginning of the second half and kept it the remainder of the evening, although Georgia threatened to come up and wipe out that lead on several occasions during the latter part of the performance. The champs, however, soon ran their score up to 26, and held Georgia's down to 21, which seemed a fairly good margin to the boys from up north. It was, as events proved, with only two more minutes left to play, Snooky Joe Martin, Georgia guard, shot a field goal to bring Georgia within three points of a tie.

And then the champions adopted a practice which is legitimate, according to the rule—and good basketball, too—but which is rather exasperating to the opposing team. The boys started firing up and they kept right on freezing until the game ended.

Captain Palmer, of Georgia, and Harry Haas, of the Wolfpack, tied for high point honors, with ten each to their credit, and Sandy Sanford, Georgia forward, followed with seven points.

Josh Cody's Clemson Tigers play here tomorrow night, instead of at Clemson, as the game was originally scheduled. The change in dates was due to an epidemic at the South Carolina school.

THE LINEUP. C. S. (28), Palmer (10), Haas (10), Sanford (7), Martin (7), Brown (7), Jones (7), Anderson (7), Haas (7), Sanford (7), Martin (7), Brown (7), Jones (7), Anderson (7).

CRACKERS OPEN SEASON APRIL 15 IN CHATTANOOGA

Schedule Is Adopted After Few Changes at Annual Meeting.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 4.—(P)—Southern Association directors meeting here today to thresh out differences that might exist concerning the 1930 schedule had considerably less difficulty than was anticipated in unofficial circles, and after making a few alterations in dates here and there, had everything ready for the coming campaign.

Principal items of interest to the baseball world that came out of the meeting were that the season will open April 15, close September 14, and that every club will be in action every Sunday.

SUNDAY GAMES. The Sunday games account for the shorter season. In previous years an occasional idle Sunday has been scheduled, but under the new arrangement the Birmingham Barons and the Atlanta Crackers, in whose hometowns the Sabbath amusement is prohibited, will have to do a good deal more traveling than usual.

One revision made in the original draft, drawn up by Tom Watkins, Memphis; Larry Gilbert, New Orleans, and Jack Whaley, Nashville, eliminated the proposed nine-game series between Birmingham and Chattanooga. The revised schedule will be released for publication Sunday, February 16, President John D. Martin said.

Birmingham will open at Nashville as last year, Atlanta will go to Chattanooga for the opener. Little Rock will begin at Memphis, and Mobile at New Orleans.

SEE "HOT" RACE. It was the consensus of opinion among the moguls that the race for the pennant this year will be hotly contested by every club.

A committee composed of President Martin, W. D. Smith, Birmingham, and Bob Allen, Little Rock, was appointed to draft a resolution to commemorate the late Julius Heinemann, former New Orleans president.

The visitors were guests of the Birmingham club at a banquet tonight. Among officials present were Jimmy Sanders, league secretary; R. J. Spiller, Chicago; Robert and John D. Dobb, Atlanta; W. D. Smith and W. A. West, Birmingham; Joe Engle, Bob Richard and Lucien Emerson, Chattanooga; Bob Allen, Little Rock; Tom Watkins and F. L. Longinotti, Memphis; Jimmy Hamilton and Lewis Little, Mobile; Jack Whaley, Nashville, and Larry Gilbert, New Orleans.

With only a few revisions here and there, the schedule committee's work was found suitable to the directors as a whole. This is evinced by the fact that less than three hours were required to approve a schedule, setting a record for such deliberations.

A deal that Spiller and Dobb had on the fire was taken off the stove still undone. No reason was given, other than that "it fell through."

The new Cracker manager will go to Douglas, Ga., Atlanta training site, on February 28, to set the stage for the advance of his ball players a few days later.

Sommers Named Pel President. NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—(P)—Charles W. Sommers was late today chosen president of the company operating the New Orleans Southern league baseball club, succeeding the late Alexander Julius Heinemann, who some time ago committed suicide.

Sommers, one of the owners of the New Orleans Baseball Club, was elected at a meeting of the board of directors of the company operating the club. At the same time the directors authorized the continuance of Larry Gilbert as manager of the Pelicans.

Auburn Announces 27-Game Schedule. AUBURN, Ala., Feb. 4.—(P)—The athletic department of the Alabama Polytechnic institute today announced a 27-game schedule for the Auburn baseball team, the season opening March 14 with Fort Benning, tentatively selected to oppose the Pelicans.

The schedule calls for 15 conference games, two with the Montgomery Lions, champions of the Southern league, and two with the Birmingham Barons, Southern league champions.

The schedule follows: March 14—Fort Benning at Auburn (tentative). March 15—Fort Benning (place undecided). March 20—Birmingham Barons at Birmingham.

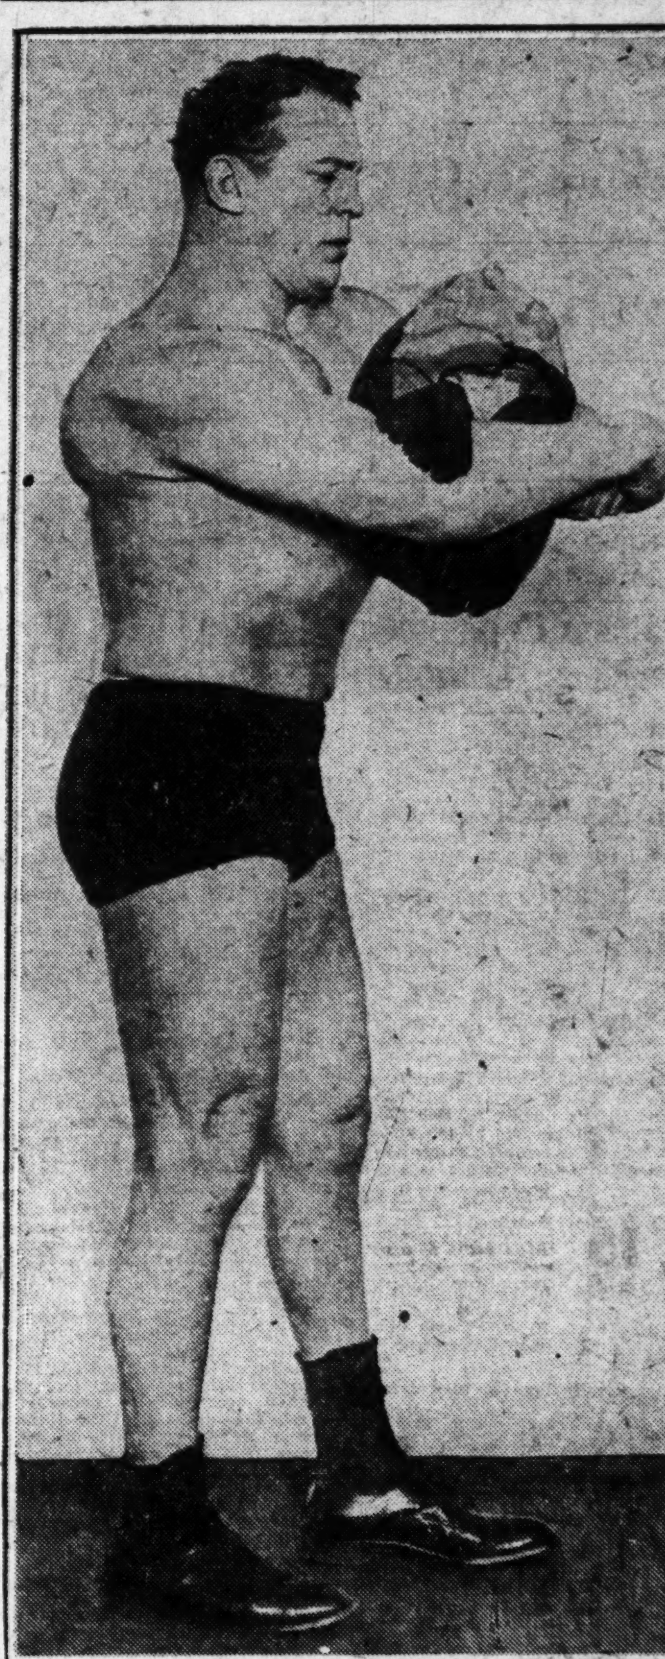

March 28-29—Tulane at Auburn. April 2—Montgomery Lions at Montgomery. April 7—Montgomery Lions at Montgomery.

April 11-12—Georgia at Auburn. April 16-17—Georgia Tech at Atlanta. April 18-19—Florida at Panama City.

May 2-3—Georgia at Athens. May 5-6—Clemson at Clemson. May 9-10—Mercer at Auburn. May 13-14—Howard at Auburn.

May 15-16—Howard at Birmingham. May 16-17—Vanderbilt at Nashville.

Pop! Goes the Weasel

At any rate, the medicine ball did. This picture, taken in an Atlanta gymnasium, shows what happened to the medicine ball when Milo Steinborn, strong man wrestler, squeezed it. It popped right out the top. Steinborn wrestles tonight at the auditorium.

Steinborn and Sauer Clash Here Tonight

Paul Harper and George Tragos Will Tangle on Auditorium Card.

Milo Steinborn, the bear that walks like a man, will see what he can do about straining Pete Sauer's ribs tonight at the auditorium. The big bear, the strongest man in the wrestling game, will have two hours in which to see what he can do with Pete Sauer, as fine looking an athlete as has appeared here.

Before that Paul Harper, the graceful and skillful Texan, will attempt to pin the shoulders of George Tragos, another Greek. Paul Harper has a lot of ammunition in his bag. He uses the go-behind-trip, the headlock, armlocks, is efficient at applying the split, knows the crab hold and when to apply it and is about as agile as a 210 pounds of man as one can find.

George Tragos, who has never appeared here before, is in for a very tough evening even if he wins. The match looks very even because Tragos is reported to be very good indeed.

PRELIMINARY. In addition to the one-hour Tragos-Harper match there will be a 15-minute preliminary in which Glenn Cowan, 158 pounds, will wrestle Jack McAdams, 160 pounds of fast-moving power.

That preliminary will go on at 8:30 tonight and will be followed by the two feature events in which the four heavyweights will participate.

Steinborn's strength makes him a sort of bugaboo in the ring. For some reason or other the wrestling fans are always "for" his opponent. Ladies shudder when Steinborn gets opponent in his grasp. They muffle shrieks when he picks up one of his huge foes and tosses him to the mat. But they yell in glee when the German is struggling in the holds applied by his foes.

FAVORITE. Sauer, who is the more experienced man, will be the favorite tonight. Steinborn's foes are always the favorites, but they do not always win. The strength of the big fellow enables him to go along, biding his time. He waits for the chance to get that pinned opponent.

The big fellow has been doing road work all week and working out in the gymnasium.

Coach Dorfman's Blue and White team had a hard game several days ago with the Chattanooga Y. M. H. A. but in Piedmont College, will run into an entirely different style of play. The North Georgia College is reported to have one of its best teams of recent years.

Tonight's game will be the only one for the South Pryor street team until next Wednesday when it will play Oglethorpe University.

BREACH HEALED FOLLOWING LONG ERA OF STRIFE

Wilbert Robinson Resigns as Director But Will Manage Club.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(P)—The tangled administrative affairs of the Brooklyn Baseball Club were settled today at a meeting of the National league with the naming of a new president, Frank B. York, and re-engagement of the team's veteran manager, Wilbert Robinson.

York will serve as president for a term of two years, and W. Robinson, who for 15 years has managed the team, was reappointed in that capacity under a two-year contract.

MANAGER NOW. For three years Robinson has been president, manager and a member of the board of directors. Today he resigned as president and director, York immediately assuming the presidency. The director to take Robinson's place will be named by Joseph A. Gillespie, secretary and a member of the board of directors, who represents the heirs of the late Charles H. Ebbets.

York, the new president, is attorney for S. F. McKee, vice president and treasurer, who has been opposed to the retention of Robinson as manager. A vacancy on the board of directors which has remained unfilled on account of the failure of the two factions to agree will be filled by a man to be named by John A. Heydler, president of the National league.

When the board is reconstituted to its full strength, a meeting will be called by Heydler and the other officials of the club will be elected.

"It's all right." was Robinson's comment after the announcement of the settlement. Mr. McKee and Mr. Gillespie were content to let the statement of the agreement made by Mr. Heydler, speak for them, declining to amplify it in any particular. Representatives of both warring baseball factions, however, seemed relieved that an agreement had been reached.

For hours the presidents of the other clubs talked behind closed doors, all representatives of Brooklyn having retired for the league to discuss the matter and find an answer. The other club owners stipulated that if they undertook the problem that their finding must be binding on McKee and Robinson on one side and Gillespie and Robinson on the other. Late in the afternoon the sound of applause came from the meeting room and a brief announcement was made that the "Brooklyn situation has been settled." No details were available for another hour.

OPPOSED "ROBBY." When Robinson's three-year contract as manager expired after the 1929 season, McKee vigorously opposed its renewal. The Ebbets heirs, representing 50 per cent of the stock of the club, just as emphatically supported the veteran baseball general. There the matter rested for months, with "Robby" holding over as president but not recognized by 50 per cent of the club's stock.

When the Brooklyn club roster was published, no manager's name was listed.

Manager Robinson will return tomorrow to his plantation at Dover Hall, Ga., going to Clearwater, Fla., later for the opening of the spring training season, February 23.

The Brooklyn peace agreement was the principal business of the meeting. The approval of the schedule was only a formality and Barney Dreyfuss was re-elected league president without opposition.

NEW UMPIRES. A proposal of Emil E. Fuchs, president of the Boston club, that the league be changed to permit umpires to eject players from games for a specified number of innings, instead of the duration of the game, was referred to the rules committee.

Three new umpires were named, Mike R. Donohue, St. Louis, Mo., promoted from the minor league; Robert M. Clarke, Washington, D. C., of the International league, and Ted McGraw, Indianapolis, from the American association. They will succeed Bob E. McLaughlin, E. McLaughlin and Barry McCormick, nine umpires were named, William J. Klein, Charles Rieger, Ernest C. Quigley, Charles B. Moran, Charles F. Hagen, John E. Reardon, Louis D. Jordan, Albert D. Stark and George Magerkurth.

Former 'Gator Star Will Train Scott. MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 4.—(P)—Phil Scott, English heavyweight, today engaged his first American sparring partner in preparation for his fight with Jack Sharkey here on February 27, when he signed Bill Middlekauff, of Orlando, Fla., former football star at the University of Florida.

Middlekauff went into action immediately by doing two rounds of wrestling and boxing with the British champion. He will don the gloves with Phil on Friday, when Scott will do his first boxing here. The English contender's work today included four rounds on the light and heavy bags, two wrestling and pushing with Middlekauff, two skipping rope, two periods of the game, and one round of shadow boxing.

Over on the other side of Biscayne bay Jack Sharkey exercised for nine rounds in the Miami Beach Kennel Club, including two rounds of boxing. The Boston sailor took on George Cook, of Australia, for one round, and then tackled Johnny Grassie, of the St. Louis Cardinals, and will play third base and manage Wayneboro of the Blue Ridge league this season. Wayneboro is one of the Cardinals' farms.

Comes to Terms. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—(P)—Bobby Rice, former Phillies infielder, has come to terms with Branch Rickey, of the St. Louis Cardinals, and will play third base and manage Wayneboro of the Blue Ridge league this season. Wayneboro is one of the Cardinals' farms.

Claude Herrin Elected To Lead 1930 Oglethorpe Eleven

PETRELS OPEN NEXT SEASON WITH GEORGIA

Only Three Home Games on Difficult Schedule. McKissick Alternate.

By Roy White.

Claude Herrin, of Winder, Ga., quarterback on the 1929 Oglethorpe football team, was elected captain of the 1930 Petrels Tuesday night at the annual banquet held at the Henry Grady hotel. Charley McKissick, of Florida, and on the 1929 team, was chosen as alternate captain. McKissick and Herrin received an equal number of votes on the first ballot with Curley Fulton third. Herrin was named on the second ballot. In addition to the election of leaders for 1930, a schedule, one of the hardest to be attempted by a Peachtree road team, was announced as a part of the features at the annual banquet. The schedule will open September 27 with the University of Georgia as the Petrels' opponents and close with the Chattanooga game in Chattanooga on Thanksgiving afternoon. The location of the Georgia game is not yet decided.

NINE GAMES.

Nine games appear on the schedule with an open date October 4. Negotiations are under way to fill that date with some southern opponent. Citadel, St. Louis and St. Xavier were dropped from the 1929 schedule and Furman, an S. I. A. A. team, and Wittenberg were the new additions. Two night games appear on the 1930 card, one in New Orleans, La., with Loyola, October 25, and another in Dayton, Ohio, with University of Dayton, October 17.

Furman will be played at Hermitage stadium, while Manhattan, Wittenberg, Villanova and Dayton will be played on foreign soil.

The annual game with Mercer Bears will be played at Hermitage stadium on November 22.

Only three of the nine games will be played at home and those are Georgia, September 27, in a homecoming celebration; Furman, November 1, and Mercer, November 22.

Sweaters and letters were awarded to 20 members of the 1929 football team and to Jake Sutton, football manager. Those who received the sweater and letter were: Parker Bryant, Asa Wall, Hoke Bell, Cy Bell, Captain Kelt Burton, Curley Fulton, Al Church, Firpo Coffey, Paul Goldsmith, Charley McKissick, Lefty Sperry, Luke Appling, Dapper Myer, Claude Herrin, Frank Anderson, J. Lyman Fox, Amos Martin, Spud Kratz and Irwin Woodward.

Following the election of a captain and awarding of letters, a number of brief talks were made by members of the three newspapers, coaches, assistant coaches, senior members of the football team and others.

THE SPEAKERS.

Coach Harry Robertson acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers as follows: Randy Edmondson, of The Georgian; Edwin Camp, of The Journal; the writer; Nutty Campbell, assistant coach; Coach Anderson, athletic director; and Dr. Thornwell Jacobs.

Several entertaining numbers were given by Bill Taylor, Oglethorpe vocalist, and a novelty tap dance by "Mamie" Raines, a member of the freshman football team. The piano accompaniment was played by McGowan.

Dr. Jacobs spoke briefly on football and complimented members of the 1929 team as one of the best that ever represented Oglethorpe University, in that it won the state championship, with a victory over Georgia.

Gotham Commission Suspends Canzonieri

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Tony Canzonieri, popular Italian lightweight, today was suspended indefinitely by the New York state athletic commission. The suspension was in concurrence with the action of the Pennsylvania commission, which set him down for failure to go through with a match in Wilkes-Barre with Steve Smith.

Richard Shikat, recognized by the New York and Pennsylvania commissions as to the heavyweight wrestling champion, was given permission to enter the title tournament now being organized by the National Boxing Association. The result, however, will not affect Shikat's status in New York state, as the N. B. A. has no alliance with the New York commission.

An attempt to make either "Strangler" Ed Lewis or Gus Sonnenberg against Hans Steinke at the Lenox Club was disapproved by the commissions. Lewis is under suspension in Illinois, while Sonnenberg is not in good standing in Pennsylvania, both of whom have working agreements with the New York board.

OLD YALE STAR FLAYS MODERNS

Butterworth Says Football Today Is a Commercialized Spectacle.

(Note: The accompanying interview with Frank Butterworth, famous old Yale fullback, who gives some of his ideas on the modern game, is another of the Associated Press series on veterans of sport.)

By Edward J. Neil.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The fine "old" man of Yale football, superhero of the days when Frank Hinker, "Pudge" Hefflinger, "Kid" Wallace and a host of other legendary figures roamed the Eli playing fields, looks down from the hills of Connecticut and isn't at all pleased with what has happened to football today.

He is Frank B. Butterworth, "old" only in that he captained the Yale varsity of 1894. He played three raring years of football with Hinker, fashioned for himself a place among the all-time fullbacks, and could kick with any man who ever laced on a football shoe. Today he roams his estate in the hills of Mt. Carmel, Conn., a country gentleman with his riding horses, polo ponies, donkey and dogs, close enough to Yale to be the friend and confidant of another generation of pigskin warriors, yet far enough away to be able to live in the rural surroundings he loves.

FIT.

Despite the gray lines that trace through his straight black hair, he looks as though he still could play plenty of fullback for Yale or run a fast half-mile as he used to. He is tall, broad-shouldered, very little above the 160 pounds he toted in his bygone Eli backfields. Two of his sons, Ben and Frank, followed in his cleat marks at Yale and Frank was a whale of a heavyweight fighting prospect.

"Football may have been rougher," he said, "but it was a game of players and not of plays in the old days. Professional spirit and direction dominates the game today. Students are losing interest. Ultimately we may have to go to some new game, some blood-brother of present day football, to rebuild the old sporting contests of the past."

COMMERCIALIZED.

"Those really interested in football used to come out to the big contests to see Hefflinger battle his old friend from Princeton. Now it is the struggle of Zammek's underground pass against Doody's wing system. It is a highly commercialized pastime, with the individual forgotten in the university's competitive 'good dates' and big receipts to pay for stadia and expensive athletic programs."

"This is the day of specialists and sounds so big that there isn't the need of developing all-around ability in individuals. Coaches are too busy working out tactics. The old fight-out spirit is gone. We had to be able to do everything in the old days because there was no one to rush in for one single play or bit of strategy. Men were too scarce."

"Of course football today has done many fine things for our colleges. For instance, it has helped Notre Dame build up the splendid traditions of success that Yale used to glory in, provided buildings, interested alumni, and turned into something fine. Knute Rockne builds players, not plays. He makes men."

"But for the most part the pointing to huge receipts as evidence of tremendously increased interest is only an excuse to save the conscience against commercialism. Crowds of 80,000 and so on are offered as evidence of football's popularity, but that's not so. Big games today are just occasions, the proper places to be, and prize fights under the same favorable conditions and ballyhoo, would draw as well."

Yale, so Frank Butterworth believes, is drifting back to the old system of coaching, where former stars and captains came back to develop individuals into great teams, drilled and hammered and lived with the men, respected by them and loved. The best sign, he says, is in the appearance of Adam Walsh in Yale coaching ranks. Walsh learned that system from Rockne at Notre Dame, who in turn was taught by Alonzo Stagg, one of old Eli's bulwarks.

And so it may turn out, as Frank Butterworth fervently hopes, that this young Irishman from the west, teaming perfectly with Marvin Stern, may be the man to lead Yale back to football sanity and the glories of the past.

Hunter Extended To Capture Match

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Frank Hunter, the second ranking American tennis star, was extended to the limit in the third round of the National Indoor championship today to defeat Frank Bonneau, New York southpaw, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5.

Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., downed Ed Burns of New York, 6-4, 6-4, and form again prevailed when Herbert Bowman, New York, beat Lieutenant R. M. Watt, Jr., of the United States navy, 6-2, 6-3.

Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, Iowa, lone middle western contender for the championship, crushed Sidney Seligson of New York University at 6-0, 6-1.

Julius Seligson of Lehigh University, Sidney's older brother, fared better, gaining his quarter final bracket at the expense of Kenneth Appel, South Orange, N. J., former Princeton captain, at 6-0, 9-7.

The first seeded player to meet elimination was Merritt Cutler, of New York, seeded eighth. He fell before a fellow New Yorker, E. E. Jenkins, 6-4, 6-2. The victory carried Jenkins into the quarter finals.

Bob Considine of Washington, D. C., National Public Parks department champion, met elimination in the third round at the hands of Perrine Rockefeller.

Favorite Survives California Tourney

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Favored to win the mid-winter Southern California golf tournament for women, Mrs. Leona Pressler, Los Angeles, Cal., state champion and runner-up for the national title in 1929, today advanced to the second round in the match play by defeating Mrs. Willie Low, Los Angeles, 7 and 5.

Other favorites who won their 18-hole matches were Mrs. H. G. Higbie, Detroit, who defeated Miss Lucille De Long, San Diego, Cal., 9 and 4; and Miss B. V. Gottlieb, formerly of New York, who won over Mrs. Joe Mayo, Los Angeles, 6 and 4.

Peachtree Victor In Union Game

Peachtree Road Presbyterians, North Avenue Presbyterians and Kirkwood Presbyterians were winners in the regular weekly basketball games played in the City Union league recently. Peachtree defeated Inman Park Presbyterians, 23 to 10, and Kirkwood defeated First Christian, 32 to 2, in an uninteresting game. North Avenue defeated Centenary Methodist, 3 to 5.

Three games are scheduled to be played Thursday night on the Decatur Presbyterian court with the first game starting at 7 o'clock.

Y. C. A. A. Games

Alpha and J. O. Y. classes furnished the big upsets in the weekly series of games in the Cherokee league on the Wesley Memorial court last night, the former downing the Associate Reform Presbyterian five, 15 to 10, in an overtime game, with the regular playing time ending in a draw, locked at 10-10, and J. O. Y. class beating Central Presbyterian, 12 to 11.

Inman Park Baptist threatened to furnish the third upset of the series, as they were leading at half time 12-4, but were unable to keep up the pace and lost to Peachtree Christian, 30-14. Peachtree Christian scored the victory mainly through the stellar playing of Misses Sarah Barber and Myra Thompson.

Western Heights Baptist was returned a 2-to-0 win over Gordon Street Baptist via the forfeit route.

CUB-ATHLETIC SERIES BROKE UP OLD JINX

Wearing of Toil-Worn Uniforms Couldn't Stop Grove, Walberg.

By George Moriarty.

Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.

The world series between the Athletics and Chicago Cubs shattered one of the oldest superstitions in baseball. That involved the jinx of wearing brand-new uniforms in the classic.

Just before the championship Chicago ordered new uniforms, so the Cubs could look epic and span.

Then the objection to the new diamond apparel became known. Hornsby, Wilson and company gave assurances that they would much rather play in the duds that had been sun-kissed and worn. The players' edict was respected.

FAILURE.

A dry-cleaning achieved the desired effect and the Cubs opened the series in their toil-worn raiment. Eventually it became plain to everyone that the potential charm of old uniforms probably failed to impress for two reasons—Grove and Walberg.

In 1928 the St. Louis Cardinals bought the fates with the same futile result. They had lost the first two games in the world series to the Yankees at New York. Upon the resumption of the series at St. Louis the men of McKeehan donned their regular season garb, but old Kix Kismet decided to string along with the Yankees on the theory that the victors are the fellows who sprinkle the most runs across the platter.

The Recognized Summit of Achievement in Motor Cars

CADILLAC V-16

SIXTEEN-CYLINDERS

With the introduction of the sixteen-cylinder Cadillac, the Cadillac Motor Car Company has in the strictest sense provided for the three distinct price classifications in the fine car market.

The eight-cylinder Cadillac, with its luxurious Fisher and Fleetwood bodies, more than meets the needs of the major price classification and is established as the world's finest motor car—with the single exception of the new and more highly personalized Cadillac V-16.

As for the La Salle, the public's appreciation of its unequalled value and brilliant performance has impressively demonstrated Cadillac's ability to respond to the very real demand for a moderately priced quality car.

Since the building of the first eight-cylinder Cadillacs and La Salles almost half a million of these splendid motor cars have eminently served the most exclusive homes in America and abroad.

Really, no man or woman seeking the best possible investment in a fine automobile need look further. The eight-cylinder Cadillac and the eight-cylinder La Salle have attained such a degree of perfection that an understanding of their superiorities literally sets them apart from all other cars.

G.M.A., Boys' High To Play Spring Football Game February 14

PLAYING FIELD NOT SELECTED; TEAMS AT WORK

Negotiations on for T. H. S.-B. H. S. Game for Month of March.

By Roy White.

A spring football game between Boys' High School and Georgia Military Academy will be played Friday afternoon, February 14. That fact was made known Tuesday when final arrangements for the game were completed. It will be the first spring football game that local prep teams have played and negotiations are under way for a game during the middle of March between Boys' High and Tech High.

Just where the game will be played was not learned and neither Boys' High or G. M. A. officials were prepared to name the place. It will be impossible to play on Spiller field, due to work being done in preparation for the opening of the baseball season in April.

Coach Doyal, with one of the best teams Boys' High ever had last year is facing a problem in replacing 11 or more of his best. Only a few of the team of 1929 will be able to graduate in June and it was due to the numerous losses that spring work was started Monday afternoon.

PRACTICE. Both Monday and Tuesday work-outs were brief but there is plenty of hard work ahead the athletes. The Tuesday work was a repetition of Monday and was featured by blocking both offensive and defensive. The linemen were being taught the use of their hands on the defense and how to sidestep and get by opposing linemen.

G. M. A. began its spring work Monday on the College Park campus under the direction of Coaches Padgett and McQuarrie. Coach Burbage is devoting his time to basketball and will be unable to assist in the spring football work.

The Cadets spent all of Monday and Tuesday afternoon in general conditioning and the heavy work is slated to start during the latter part of the week. G. M. A., like Boys' High will suffer heavy from graduation and the coaches are anxious to get a line on the prospects for 1930.

HONORED. G. M. A. has been selected as one of the outstanding military schools in the state and will play the Navy Plebes in football during the fall. Riverside Military, of Gainesville was also honored and will play the Army freshman team in the fall.

Boys' High and G. M. A. played to a scoreless tie in the third game of the season last October and it was partly due to that tie that the game was arranged for next week.

Under an agreement between the two schools, only those players eligible to play next fall will be permitted to play in the spring game. All the June graduates will be on the sidelines while the recruits will have full sway.

Father Lumpkin Seeks Ring

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Roy "Father" Lumpkin, former Georgia Tech football star, was here today awaiting replies to telegraphed offers to boxers in an effort to find a suitable opponent for his professional ring debut here.

Jim Downing, Florida promoter, said no satisfactory replies so far had been received. He said he hoped to put on the fight next week on the same card with Mike Lucas, of Cleveland, and Johnny Glynn, of Chattanooga.

Benning Tourney Dates Named. COLUMBUS, Ga., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Dates for golfing events at Fort Benning have been announced by Lieutenant Colonel H. A. Wells, golfing director of the Officers' Club.

Scott League. Gulf Refining Co. had a hard time vanquishing the Swift team Tuesday night at the J. P. C. court in the first series of the second round of games.

At the start Gulf led Swift, 10 to 0, but the packers scored 11 points in succession, making it 11 to 10. The game was even until the finish, the final count being 30 to 26 for Gulf. Fincher was good on four shots, making eight, and Nichols was good on four, making eight, and Tasker started at guard.

First National met defeat at the hands of the Power Co., 17 to 15, in another hair-raising game. This gave the Power Co. undisputed claim to second place, and makes them the only team with a chance to beat Gulf out of the title. They will play on February 18. M. Adams was high scorer and kept the Bankers in the running throughout the game. B. Goolsby starred for the Power Co.

Pullman barely won from Western Electric Telephone Department, 20 to 18, in the best game the Electricians have played this year, while the Western Electric Installation Department won from G. M. A. C., 21 to 14, in a game that started off close but ended up one-sided.

TEPCOS READY FOR ROSENBLUM BATTLE HERE

Chattanooga Quintet Has Fine Center in Chuck Braidwood.

Atlanta's basketball fans will have an opportunity at 8:15 o'clock Thursday night at the city auditorium to see two of the best basketball teams in the country play. The famous Rosenblum team, world's champions, and the Tecpos, of Chattanooga, will furnish the excitement and a 30-minute exhibition of handling and passing a basketball will be given just before the game.

The Tecpos are coached by Bill Reid, the former University of Chattanooga star, and one of the best centers the south has ever produced. Chuck Braidwood, the Tecpos' versatile fighting forward, will be pivot man in the annual battle with the Rosenblums Thursday, Reid announced yesterday.

SENSATION. In other words, Braidwood will be the Tecpos' Dutch Debut. Dutch is the sensational pivot man of the champions, and his handling of the sphere in the American league was so perfect that the loop moguls are said, for this reason, to have passed a ruling that the pivot could not hold the ball more than five seconds. This action was taken in an attempt to weaken the Rosenblum attack and give the other teams a chance for the world's championship. However, Dutch demonstrated that five seconds is plenty of time to pass a ball.

Braidwood's assignment is the result of his brilliant performance in the last few Tecpos games, and especially his magnificent play against the Chattanooga Moccasins Saturday night, when the Tecpos practically cinched the city championship. Braidwood was up and down the sidelines like a flash of lightning.

INTEREST. Interest in the game has reached fever heat as the fans believe the Tecpos this year have the smoothest organization since Bill Reid became coach. The Tecpos have an excellent chance of knocking off the world's champions and fans will turn out en masse with that idea in mind. With Fred Ford and Dill Gockel, two of the finest players in the game, leading the Tecpos attack, the fans think the Rosenblums will have their hands full. Braidwood will feed the ball to these two marksmen, while Bill Reid and Cecil Holland will be all over the floor to pick up where the Ford-Gockel combination leaves off.

Humphrey Phillips, who has been playing his game steady game backed up with seven years of brilliant performance on the Tecpos, is expected to be at his best and give the Rosenblums a run for their money. Chief Hackett and Harry Lauter, two younger players, but none the less brilliant considering their experience, also will see service.

Tickets for the game were placed on sale Tuesday at Marshall & Reynolds in the Flatiron building and at A. G. Spaulding & Brothers and student tickets are on sale at Spaulding's.

Tom Oliver Jumps Out of Pan Into Fire

Joy at Escape From Travelers to World's Champions is Short-Lived.

By Ralph McGill.

Tom Oliver, late of Little Rock, is no doubt a very lugubrious person, indeed, feeling that he has leaped from the frying pan into the fire. Tom Oliver was sold to the Athletics last fall. He was all keyed up to make a great effort to crash into the outfield which Connie Mack, after 15 years of strenuous effort, had got together. He was sold to the world's champions, the Athletics, and wasn't it wonderful?

And now Tom Oliver, who was sold out of the frying pan at Little Rock, has been sold by the Athletics to the Red Sox and is right in the fire again.

All of which indicates that Mister Cornelius McGillicuddy has very far-seeing eyes and that he is what he never denies being, a baseball genius. Mr. McGillicuddy was able to determine that Tom Oliver was not a good ball player without looking at him. Tom Oliver never saw Philadelphia. He was bought and sold and never drew a dime out of the coffers of the club.

All of which is one of baseball's little tragedies.

Roster Reveals "Colorful" Rookies. The American league roster of rookies shows that the boys who are coming up this year are quite colorful. They all have some sort of record, collegiate or otherwise. For instance:

Irving Jeffries, who will go to the White Sox from Dallas, was a star football player and baseball man at Kentucky. Only difficulties with studies kept him from playing for the Southern conference's best known athletes.

Zeke Bonura, New Orleans first baseman who goes to Cleveland, once beat the American record for throwing the javelin while in high school with a toss of 213 feet 10 1/2 inches. Johnny Gill, a Nashville boy, who was recalled by Cleveland from Albany, hit three home runs and a triple the day he was scouted. He is an outfielder.

Cleveland has six former football stars in Bonura, of St. Paul, Alex. Hays, of Southern Methodist; John Burnett, of Florida; Josh Goldman, of Syracuse; George Detore, of Colgate, and Bruce Caldwell, of Yale.

Paul Andrews, who was purchased by the Yankees from Mobile last year, never lost a game in the four years he pitched for the Dora, (Ala.) High school.

Milburn Schoffner, southpaw pitcher by Cleveland from Jersey City, pitched a no-hit, no-run game in high school at Shiloh, Texas. Sand Jolley, outfielder and slugger purchased by the White Sox from San Francisco, batted around .395 for five consecutive seasons on the coast.

Whitlow Wyatt, pitcher bought by Detroit from Evansville, once struck out 22 men in a semi-pro game.

Roy Mahaffey, right-hander bought by the Athletics from Portland, once hit three home runs in a single game. Glenn Liebhardt, Jr., another right-hander obtained from Des Moines by the Athletics, is the son of a former Cleveland pitcher.

Eddie Wineapple, southpaw signed by Washington, pitched three no-hit games in high school and college ranks and also starred in basketball and football.

Nap Rucker Sends Red-Head to Majors. Nap Rucker, whose thatch is red, is sending up a red-headed player to the Brooklyn club this spring. The Robin scout had him out with Macon and Macon sent him to another piece of Brooklyn property, the Rocky Mount club.

While there Joe Vance, a real, honest-to-goodness cowboy and not that way for publicity purposes, set an unofficial record for making a four of the bases in 18 seconds; a new world's record even if it wasn't recognized; batted .325 and showed signs of being a real outfielder. He was made over into an outfielder by Tom Rogers at Macon before he was sent to Rocky Mount. He was trying to pitch and doing right well at it.

Vance's hobby is taming wild horses. He has worked as a cowboy in spite of the fact that he has a college education and was a letter-winner in boxing, track, football and tennis at the University of Texas. Nap Rucker picked him up in the West Texas league.

CUBS, MACKS BROKE JINX

Continued from Second Sport Page. for photographs just before a world series. Stanley Harris and Bill McKelvie, bosses of Washington and Pittsburgh, respectively, in 1928, informed the photographers that the customary "group picture" could not be snapped till the big series closed.

RUINOUS. In 1900, however, Hugh Jennings allowed the Detroit Tigers to be "shot" at Forbes field before the first game. The Tigers lost that series, but the click of the camera was not the jinx as much as our failure to focus on Babe Adams, who set us back three times.

Yet superstition has a place in competitive sports, particularly in baseball. The player uses it as something to hide behind. Thus it gives him a chance to dodge the blame by attaching it to something else, when the breaks are going against him. It serves the purpose the player or a club regards normal form.

MATMEN MEET HERE TONIGHT

Continued from First Sport Page. local gymnasiums. He is in better shape for a wrestling match than he has ever been. Sauer, 30 pounds heavier than he was when he appeared here as the masked marvel, is one of the big figures in the effort to find the real wrestling champion.

Promoter Weber's instructions tonight will be those he gives every man who appears in his shows here: "Work fast, don't stall, get the fall as quickly as possible." There hasn't been a fall yet. Tickets are on sale at the Piedmont Hotel and at the Candler building soda fountain.

Captains. University of Kansas captains hereafter will be named by the coach before each contest. An honorary captain will be chosen at the end of each season's play.

Numbering. President Clark Griffith, of the Washington (American league) team, is in favor of numbering the players if the fans want it.

BARNES GIVEN SECOND CHANCE WITH SENATORS

Former Alabama Star To Get Thorough Test This Season.

By Frank Young.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—(Special).—Although all indications point to Washington's 1930 outfield being composed of "Goose" Goslin, Sam Rice and Sam West, Manager Walter Johnson is authority for the statement that Emile "Red" Barnes is likely to put up quite a battle and that he will be given every opportunity to make good.

Ordinarily a major league fly-chaser hitting no higher than .200 and fielding no better than .877—the lowest average of any of the American league outer-gardners—would be given little consideration, but the Nat manager declares that Barnes' case is no ordinary one and that he knows that the sorrel-topped athlete is much better than the records would indicate.

Barnes, one of the best football players ever turned out at the University of Alabama, has what is known as a "football knee"—this part of his anatomy having been bruised on so many different occasions in gridiron battles that it gets thru out of kilter easily. And Johnson blames this for Barnes' rather sorry showing last season.

Spring Showing Impressed Johnson.

"If I hadn't seen 'Red' look like a million dollars during our spring exhibition series, when he fielded almost as well as Sam West and hit over .400, I probably would not feel that he was entitled to another chance next season," said Johnson, "but what he showed me down south convinces me that he has the goods and that we couldn't afford to let go of a fellow like him without taking another look at him."

Johnson is convinced that Barnes' "football knee" is responsible for the redhead's 1929 failure. "I never saw a youngster look any better than did Barnes until he injured his knee in the exhibition game at Charlotte just a few days before the season was scheduled to start," said Johnson.

This set him back right while he was in his best stride. When we put him in the game later he appeared to misjudge several flies. Maybe he did, but I doubt it out that he simply was unable to get started after them because of his injured knee. It took a long time for this to heal and Red took on weight, lost both his batting and fielding eye and simply went from bad to worse.

Barnes Not Brittle Athlete.

"If I thought that Barnes was one of these brittle athletes, I would not bother fooling with him, but the club physician tells me that the knee now is just about as good as ever and that his ailment is not what might be called chronic; in other words, that he will have to be injured seriously to be knocked out again. So, I'm going to forget his last year's showing and start over with him. I believe that he can and will both field and hit and will not be surprised if he beats out one of the trio now rated as regulars."

Stribling Buys New Travelair

W. L. (Young) Stribling, Georgia's heavyweight contender for the championship crown, has placed an order for a new Travelair biplane, it was learned at Candler field Tuesday. Stribling recently sold his plane, in which he was piloted to many fights in the past months and couldn't resist the temptation to purchase another.

He motored to Candler field Sunday and spent some time in the air in a new Gypsy DH Moth, which Doug Davis had recently brought to the field.

Stribling's order was taken by Douglas Davis, sales manager for the Curtis-Wright Corporation, and the new ship is expected to arrive at Candler field early next week. Davis has left the city for the factory to select Stribling's new plane, which he will pilot back to the city.

Valdosta Signs.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Feb. 4.—Earl Sheppard, former outfielder for the Valdosta baseball team, has signed with the Tampa Smokers for the coming season. Since leaving the Valdosta team Sheppard has played with the Macon Peaches and on the Terre Haute, Ind., team. He has made a fine record as a safe outfielder, with a good batting record.

RISKO TO MEET GIANT CAMPOLO ON MIAMI CARD

Complete List of Bouts Announced for "Battle of Palms" Show.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The supporting card for Jack Sharkey's heavyweight tussle with Phil Scott, in Miami, Fla., February 27, was announced today at Madison Square Garden.

In accordance with general forecasts, Johnny Risko, the Cleveland baker boy, will meet Victorio Campolo, husky Argentine, in the 10-round semi-final. This match was ruled out for the Garden here by the New York state athletic commission, which decided that Johnny was "too small" for the South American.

Another 10-round match, previously announced, brings together Tommy Loughran, former light-heavyweight champion, and Pierre Charles, of Belgium. The first ten-round pairs Jimmy Maloney, of Boston, and Moise Bonquillon, French heavyweight. George Cook, British veteran, opens the card in a six-round bout with Paul Bianchi, of the Argentine.

English Shines As T. H. S. Wins.

Led by the brilliant work of English at forward who scored 31 points, Tech High defeated Fulton High, 34 to 20, Tuesday afternoon on the Wesley Memorial court. English was the outstanding star of the game and scored 19 of the 20 points made by Tech High in the first half, while Fulton scored nine points in the first period. Fulton played a great guarding game all the way and except for a few moments in the first period when English literally landed and at country lads played the Smithies on practically even terms.

G. M. A.-U. S. B. Play Today.

Georgia Military academy and University School for Boys will settle all arguments over the cellar position in the prep basketball league standing at 3 o'clock this afternoon on the Candler court in College Park. U. S. B. has won only one game and dropped three, while G. M. A. has won two and lost five. A victory for the Bluebirds today will give them a tie with G. M. A. for last place.

Decatur Wins Two, Loses One Game.

Decatur basketballers registered two victories in a three-game series played on the Decatur court last night. The boys' first and second teams won, while the girls were noosed out by the Clarkston girls, 7-6. The first team defeated the Clarkston first team, 29-9, while the second quintet defeated Clarkston's second team, 20-11.

WARM SPRINGS PLANS OUTLINED BY RICHTER

Foundation Secretary Tells of Program of Expansion at Health Resort.

Paul G. Richter, secretary of the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation and connected with the New York office at 120 Broadway, was in Atlanta yesterday.

This organization is sponsored by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, he having received much personal benefit from taking treatment there.

Mr. Richter said "Governor Roosevelt and the trustees of the Foundation are deeply concerned with plans for expanding and enlarging the splendid natural facilities at Warm Springs for restorative treatment to men and women who are suffering from the after effects of infantile paralysis.

"For more than four years the Foundation, starting with a carefully supervised program of organized treatment, has been rendering treatment at cost to patients from every section of the country. The warm springs, which flow into specially constructed pools, retain an even temperature of 90 degrees the year round. Exercises are given the patients in these pools by a staff of trained physiotherapists. Dr. L. W. Hubbard, formerly one of the best specialists of the state of New York, who is surgeon-in-chief, has in conjunction with a board of consulting orthopedic surgeons worked out a very carefully supervised program of systematic treatment and special exercises for polio patients.

"The trustees of the Foundation are engaged in a fund-raising effort to provide for greater facilities so that the Foundation may care for a larger number.

"A million and a quarter dollars is needed to carry out the present plans. More than half a million already has been subscribed by enthusiastic friends of the work in New York. Governor Roosevelt was very much pleased to find the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation included among the 33 successful applicants to the Conrad Hubert Fund which was announced early in January. This is another indication of the importance of the restorative treatment which Warm Springs is doing for some of the thousands of handicapped people who are scattered all over the country. The delightful all-year-round climate of Georgia has added materially to the usefulness of Warm Springs as a health resort. Patients from other states return to their homes enthusiastic over the climate and sunshine of this beautiful state."

Emory's Annual Stunt Program To Open Tonight

"Opera Up to Date," featuring the Glee Club in burlesque, will be one of the many varied attractions on the eleventh annual stunt night program at the Emory University auditorium tonight and Thursday night. The combination of real artistic talent with a ludicrous performance for this number is expected to make a strong appeal.

Since last October the best entertainers on the Emory campus have been at work on their stunts. Dr. Malcolm H. Dewey has woven these widely diversified acts into a smooth performance for one of the best entertainments of its kind in Atlanta each year.

Selections from "Sweethearts" will form the overture for the performance. After the curtains swing open there will pass before the eyes of the audience an entertainment which will include the entire membership of the "Little Symphony," the Glee Club, several members of the Dramatic Club and many individuals talented in other lines.

E. L. Crump, who has made magic a study of several years, will furnish 15 minutes of entertainment. Crump, who is a student in the university, is a member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians and has during each of the past several weeks given a demonstration of his skill to audiences in different sections of Atlanta. His act is something more than a mere amateurish performance.

The members of the Dramatic Club who are to appear in the performance of "The Diabolical Circle," under the direction of Dr. English, are Dot Killingsworth, Bill Bailey, Max Hall and Bill Tumlin.

On a Parisian sidewalk, a colorful bit of scenery composing the stage setting, most of the first part of the entertainment will take place. Robert Martin's accordion music will open the performance. Yeminin Bilnov, Russian student, will give some of his native songs. Ben Warren is another of the entertainers. Charley Bird will be there with his tap dancing.

George Rogers and George Monk, two of the Glee Club artists, have parts on the program. Bayford Monk and his uke will no doubt hold the interest of his audience throughout. Albert Kelly, the Glee Club president, will supervise the program.

Shelton To Lecture At Decatur Church

Dr. W. A. Shelton, professor of semitic languages at Emory University, will give an illustrated lecture on "Travels in Bible Lands" at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night, February 13, at the Pattillo Memorial Methodist church, Field and West College avenues. The lecture is being presented as a benefit performance for the parsonage and building funds of the church.

Dr. Shelton is an archaeologist of international reputation. He was made a member of the American Scientific Missions, 1919-1920, which spent more than 18 months in the Bible lands. His lecture Thursday will cover his tours of Egypt, Palestine, and Tigris-Euphrates valley. It will be illustrated with stereopticon slides.

Georgia Baby Born Ever Nine Minutes

The bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health Tuesday announced a Georgia baby was born every nine minutes during 1929, and every quarter of an hour a Georgian died.

The natural increase of population for the state was 21,017, which represents the excess of births over deaths. There were 58,806 births recorded last year, against 34,788 deaths. The birth rate, it was said, was under that of 1928, but the same condition has been noted all over the world, according to Butler Tombs, director of the bureau.

Fun Predominates At Civitan Luncheon

Fun and entertainment predominated at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Civitan Club Tuesday at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

The principal speaker was Sinclair Jacobs, vice president of Jacobs Pharmacy Company, who was recently elected president of the Atlanta Retail Merchants' Association. He confined his remarks principally to the humorous side of business.

Jack McLallen, with "Sarah," appearing as the headliners at Keith's Georgia this week in "A Cyclone of Delightful Comedy and Song," kept the club in an uproar during the entertainment feature of the program.

Dr. W. Earl Quillian, president of the club, presided.

Greater Atlanta Benefit Is Given Mayor's Approval

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Tuesday prepared to send out official invitations to mayors of other boroughs and unincorporated districts of Atlanta to attend the Greater Atlanta benefit ball to be staged March 4 by the West End Woman's Club.

The affair will be to raise funds for the Alto tubercular sanitarium, and mayors and members of the council of Atlanta will be honor guests.

Officials of the West End Woman's Club presented the invitation in person.

The Fox theater has been selected for the event.

In explaining the affair it was said that the borough of Atlanta will formally extend its welcome to the new citizens taken into the Greater Atlanta area by act of the last session of the Georgia assembly. A leading Atlanta orchestra will provide music and entertainment will be under auspices of a special committee from the club.

There will be several feature numbers on the program.

Mr. Ragsdale said that Atlantans should support the move as a worthy one and attend in large numbers.

"This affair is designed not only to cement the ties of friendship already existing, but also for a great cause," he said. "I commend the effort to Atlantans knowing they will respond to the appeal. In addition, this will be the first time that members of the council of Atlanta have been presented formally to Atlantans, and this deserves a hearty response."

ANNOUNCING

GASOLINE

MADE BETTER

THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE is now Anti-Knock quality — 400° F. end point — at no extra cost. This Anti-Knock quality stops the knocks in the new high compression motors and greatly improves motor efficiency.

The 400° F. End Point gives instant and complete vaporization to the last drop — many motorists may not know what 400° F. End Point means but every motorist can tell the difference in his car between the new Good Gulf Gasoline and the ordinary gasoline with 437° F. End Point.

This combination of high anti-knock properties and volatility (the 400° F. End Point) makes the new Good Gulf Gasoline the equal of many premium gasolines and far superior to all non-premium fuels. There is but one better gas—GULF NO-NOX MOTOR FUEL AVIATION GRADE (374° F. End Point.)

Remember there is no extra cost for this new Good Gulf Gasoline.

NEW CHAPTER NAMED FOR LATE SENATOR COLQUITT

Mrs. Josephus Camp Heads New U. D. C. Organization

Mrs. Josephus Camp was elected president for a four-year term of Alfred H. Colquitt U. D. C., the organization meeting of the chapter having taken place yesterday at the Henry Grady hotel. The corps of officers elected to serve with Mrs. Camp include Mrs. George P. Howard, first vice president; Mrs. Anderson Scruggs, second vice president; Mrs. Fred Hanson, third vice president; Mrs. O. L. Mann, recording secretary; Miss Sarah Henderson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Durant H. Smith, registrar; Mrs. W. M. Rapp, recorder of crosses; and Mrs. W. A. Dedmon, parliamentarian. Permission was granted to form the chapter by the executive board of Georgia division, U. D. C., held in Atlanta in January, and the chapter was named in honor of the late Senator Colquitt, one of the most distinguished of Georgians. The members of the late Senator Colquitt attended the meeting, including Messrs. George P. Howard, Sr., Preston S. Arkwright, Judge Walter T. Colquitt, son and daughter of Alfred H. Colquitt, Alfred C. Newell, George P. Howard, Jr., Robert Whitley, Colquitt Carter, Gray Zalusky, Samuel Barnett, James K. Hines, William A. Wright and Miss Ellen Newell.

Distinguished Record.

Alfred Holt Colquitt was governor of Georgia in 1876 and 1882, and United States senator in 1882, and was elected to congress in 1882, and upon the outbreak of the Civil War he entered the Confederate army as captain and rose rapidly to the rank of major general. He was born in Walton county, Georgia, April 20, 1824, and died in Washington, D. C., in March, 1894.

As a brigadier general in the Confederate army, Senator Colquitt was in command of the forces which won the battle of Olustee in Florida, and through a clever ruse completely nonplussed the federals, thereby checking the invasion of the opposing army in the state. Here the Confederates gave out of ammunition, but General Hawley, commander of the federals, was entirely ignorant of this fact. When the commanding officer, Brigadier General Colquitt, sent his men for more supplies, the federals conceived the idea that he was trying to retreat, and they followed him. This General Hawley refused to do until later on, but long after the Confederates had been replenished with ammunition and won the victory, absolutely checking the federals' invasion into Florida. Years afterward, in 1882, to be exact, Governor Hawley, then chief executive of Connecticut, attended a convention of governors held in Atlanta, with Alfred H. Colquitt, governor of the state, acting as official host to the event. General Hawley stated before the body that he had "twice visited the south, receiving a warm welcome upon both occasions by the same Georgian." The first time he was run out of the south, while upon the second occasion he was extended the hospitality of the south by the same famous gentleman, Governor Colquitt, head of the reception committee for the governors' convention. General Hawley and Governor Colquitt also had the privilege of serving together as United States senators in Washington, D. C.

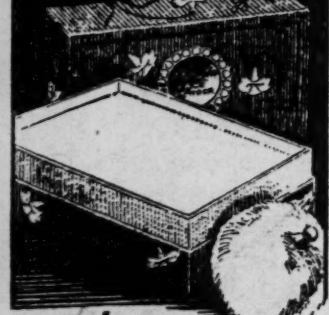

Many Honors.

The president of the chapter, Mrs. Camp, has had many honors conferred upon her in organization work. She is fifth district chairman for junior membership in Georgia Federation, president of North Side Study Club, and recording secretary of the Dantes circle. She served as fifth district chairman for the state sanitarium at Milledgeville, under the administration of Mrs. Kate Green Hines. During Mrs. Camp's six-year residence in Metter, Ga., she was editor of the first district page, published in the Metter Advertiser. She was also president of Metter P. T. A. organization, and was very instrumental in carrying forward the work of that association.

Miss de Golan Will Honor Debs.

Miss Natalie de Golan will be hostess Saturday at a luncheon at her home on Howell Mill road in honor of the members of this season's debutante club. Miss de Golan will be assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Felix de Golan and her sister, Miss Martha de Golan.

John Cowper Powys Will Address Fine Arts Club

John Cowper Powys will address the members of the Fine Arts Club at the meeting of that group at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club. This distinguished lecturer will have as his subject, "Living English and American Novelists," which will include a discussion of Wells, Bennett, Galsworthy, Dreiser, Cabell, Sherwood Anderson and of his own novel, "Wolf Solent," of which Will Durant has written, "Poet and philosopher, pagan and saint have come together to make this titanic novel."

John Cowper Powys was born in Derbyshire, England, the eldest of eleven children, all but one of whom are still living, and among whom are Theodore and Llewellyn, both writers of distinction, and Philip, a poetess. His father, the Vicar of Shirley, was descended from the ancient princes of Mid-Wales, and his mother sprang from a line that included the poets, William Cowper and John Donne. After graduation from Corpus Christi, Cambridge, John Cowper Powys came to this country in 1907, and has since been an essayist, poet, philosopher and novelist.

The officers of the Fine Arts Club are: Honorary presidents, Mrs. Ewell Gay and Miss Nan Stephens; president, Mrs. Reginald Fleet; first vice president, Mrs. William D. Ellis, III; secretary, Mrs. Frank Neely; treasurer, Mrs. George Street; executive board, Messrs. Robert Alston, Ten Eyck Brown, William Shallenberger, Edwin Peeples and Turner Jones.

Demonstration Club Holds Meetings.

The Demonstration Club meetings were held last week at the following places: Ben Hill, Monday; Mayson, Tuesday; Orchard Knob, Wednesday; Hammond, Thursday. The main topic of discussion was health and mental habits of the child. Some of those taking part were: Mesdames E. A. Van Norden, T. L. Wheeler, J. M. Simonton, of Ben Hill; R. H. Lummas, B. B. Fenn, R. H. Maynard, of Mayson; Mack Prickett, R. O. Walters, E. S. Patton, Margaret Jackson, of Orchard Knob; H. H. Hensley, Frank Burdett, Harry Brown, Jim Tiller, of Hammond. Some of the subjects discussed were "Fresh Air and Sunshine," "The Child's Food and How to Make Him Eat It," "Unruly Children," "Truthfulness and Honesty," "How to Manage the Child Who is Backward With His Lessons." A countywide program for these study groups was mapped out by Miss Lucy Wood, Fulton county home demonstration agent, and the leaders of this project in the different clubs at a special meeting held for this purpose. Similar leader-training meetings will be conducted from time to time.

Billy Brooks Is Honored at Party.

Billy Brooks, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Brooks, was honored yesterday at a Valentine birthday party given by his mother in honor of his fifth birthday. The home was beautifully decorated with Valentine decorations, and red hearts were used to decorate the table. In the center of the dining room table was a large white birthday cake holding five red candles. Small red candy hearts were used to decorate the cake. The children were given red paper caps and various types of fancy and comic valentines as favors. Mrs. Brooks assisted in entertaining the guests by her sister, Mrs. E. L. Tarney; Mrs. H. A. Hoffman, and her daughter, Miss Rosalie Brooks. The children invited were Barbara Kroog, Jane Kroog, Charlotte Hoffman, Gabrielle Mattox, Willene Tarry, Alice Funnion, Edna Louise Zuber, Esther Adamson, and Marbury Fox, Jr., Howard McCall, Jr., John Robert Grace, Barton Gause, Jr., Edwin Penbody, Fleming Spearman, Bobbie Lipshutz, Slade Young, Bill Lee Ballinger, Jimmy Jones, Thomas Murphy and Robert Indell.

Mrs. Wilbur Swilley Entertains at Home.

Mrs. Wilbur Swilley entertained at dinner Monday evening at her home on Los Angeles avenue. Those present were: Misses Sara Leonard, Dor Bennett, Annie Laurie Thompson, Gertrude Grace, Beora Swilley, Floeie Daniels, Lottie Grimsley, Mrs. Ernest Williams, Mrs. Williams, Edward Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Swilley.

Mrs. S. E. Price Is Given Party.

Mrs. S. E. Price was surprised by a miscellaneous shower given her by the Woman's Auxiliary to Local No. 32, National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, last Wednesday afternoon. Those present were: Mesdames S. E. Price, E. Melton, A. M. Sloan, S. P. Crumley, F. E. Holland, L. C. Weems, Kirby Bell and L. W. Hendrix.

Mrs. Frederick Pratt Is Honor Guest.

Honoring their guest, Mrs. Frederick L. Pratt, of Buffalo, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Sloan were hosts last evening at a small dinner party at their home on Andrews Drive in compliment to their attractive guest. Mrs. Pratt will return home today, after having been extensively entertained during her visit.

Mrs. Emmert Gives Children's Party.

Mrs. Marcus Emmert was hostess yesterday afternoon at her home, Delbrook, on Pace's Ferry road, at a children's circus party, in compliment to her small daughters, Marguerite McDowell Emmert and Ann Marshall Emmert, which assembled a group of prominent Atlantans.

The playground of the home was converted into a circus tent, having striped canopy hiding the ceiling and walls. Around the wall were wooden animals typifying those appearing in a circus, such as bears, monkeys, lions, elephants, tigers and various other animals. The children, invited were Eleanor Troutman, Marion Moise, Anne Eastman, Jacquelin Mave, Mary Upshaw, Nina Black, Clara Jones, Joan Smith, Frances Richardson, Joan Fitchard, Charlotte Woolford, Frances Beers, Bertha Beers, Mary Elizabeth Beers, Katherine Stephens and James Campbell, Ashley Jones, Torrance Chalmers, Buddy Chalmers, Nat Tucker, Billy Black, Charlie Black, Bobby Jones III, Carroll Smith, Alex Smith III, Billy Fitchard, Boykin Bennett, Ted Forbes, Saunders Jones III and Albert Stephens.

Miss Ellen Bond And Miss Branch To Be Honored

Miss Harriet Hasson will be hostess this evening at the mid-week dinner-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore at a dinner party honoring her guest, Miss Ellen Bond, of Sarasota, Fla., and Miss Evelyn Branch, one of this season's loveliest debutantes. The guests will include Misses Branch, Bond, Helen Gude, Elizabeth Branch, Mary Rembert Denton, Helen Beasley and Elsie Prater; Left Bohn, Oscar Bergstrom, John Cook, Ben Gilmer, Victor Corrigan, Jimmy Thornton, Bud McKinney, Paul Ansley, Ed Medlock, Herb Johnson, Simpson Foyer, James Smiley, Bob Pickett and Bob Brown.

Miss Bond has been the feted guest of Miss Helen Beasley, one of the popular debutantes of this season, and has been extensively entertained during her visit here. She will visit Miss Hasson at her home on Rivers road for the next week before returning to her home. Miss Branch is one of the most popular members of this season's Debutante Club and she has been entertained at a number of parties during the past fall and winter.

LaGrange Club To Sponsor Bridge.

The LaGrange College Club, Circle No. 2, met last Saturday at the home of Miss Adelaide Tigner on Madox drive. Plans were completed for a benefit bridge party to be given in the room at Rich's February 15 at 2:30 o'clock. The tables will be $2. Members are urged to notify Mrs. J. D. Bolton, Hemlock 8822-W, or Miss Tigner, Hemlock 1200, for reservations.

Music Is Interpreted in Color By Pupils of High Museum of Art

The interpretation of music in terms of form and color is one of the most recent projects of students at the High Museum of Art, 1282 Peachtree street, which Lewis P. Silliman is director. With a view to expressing a mood rather than any definite form, the pupils are learning to combine shades and shapes to definitely express the feeling which the music conveys.

This branch of instruction of which Benjamin Shute and Robert Rogers, graduates of the Art Institute of Chicago have charge, is a decided factor in encouraging the student to interpret the feeling and mood of his subject as well as its color and form. The value of the work is being readily comprehended by the pupils who are producing studies which reflect a definite grasp of the subject in hand.

In this form of musical interpretation the pupil expresses himself freely although applying certain general principals to convey his meaning. The slow, legato movement which comes to the pupil through the Victrola, will in most cases be interpreted by horizontal lines. The quick, jazzy theme becomes, under the student's brush, a series of angles or curves. The "Sonata in G," has been successfully translated by pupils in soft subdued shades and flowing graceful lines. More rapid movements are handled in more brilliant shades, stronger contrasts, and striking geometric figures.

Both day and night classes of the museum are going forward in the various branches of art. Classes in lettering, still life, figure study, elementary design, composition, perspective, life drawing, painting, commercial art and illustration afford courses which are unexcelled by any institution in the south. The recent installation of an etching press with necessary equipment for operation, which is to be at the disposal of both day and night schools, is a decided acquisition to the museum, being the only one, it is believed, in any school south of St. Louis, Mo. The museum is open to the public from 9 until 1 o'clock and from 1 until 4 o'clock throughout the week, from 7 to 9 o'clock Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, and from 3 to 5 o'clock on Sundays.

Mr. and Mrs. Sloan Are Interesting Visitors in City

Distinguished visitors in the city are George H. Sloan, of New York city, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, an international organization with headquarters in New York city, and Mrs. Sloan, who is accompanying her husband on a brief business trip in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Sloan, who arrived in Atlanta yesterday, stopping at the Biltmore hotel, will return today to their home in New York city. Mrs. Sloan is a woman of unusual charm and personality, having come in intimate contact with outstanding persons of this country and abroad. She holds an enviable position in social and cultural circles and has been widely entertained here and throughout the north and east. Her visit is of interest to numbers here.

BASQUE BRONZE COLOURS in Silks

FROM the Basque lands of song and story... where play is a poem and living is laughter... come these glorious colors and their tripping, tripping names! Smart fashionables chose them for Biarritz and Antibes to accentuate the tawny glow of sun-bronzed skins... Palm Beach took them to heart for her beach-combing days and star-strung nights... and now they are at Rich's in Stehli's exquisite silken crepes. Priced $1.94 to $2.48 the yard.

San Sebastian... a luscious melon heart
St. Tropez... a flashing scarlet Patou Rose... a beige with a mauve complex
Biarritz... the aquamarine of Biscay Bay
Renteria... a flamboyant ochre
Mimosa... a shaft of sunshine
Hendaye... a deep amethyst
Bayonne... a sophisticated sand
Pelota... a gentian blue
Ascan... a spring-leaf green
St. Jean... a mist-blue
Cambo... a shamrock green

Many New Reservations Are Made For Driving Club Valentine Ball

Attesting the interest in the annual Valentine ball at the Piedmont Driving Club, February 14, numerous additional reservations are being made by Atlantans, who each year enjoy this novel affair. The ball will be one of the last brilliant entertainments of the winter season taking place before March 5, which marks the beginning of Lent.

Dining together will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. James Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Brockover Toy, and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ewing Dean will entertain a congenial party honoring Miss Frances Barnett. The guests will be Misses Barnett, Catherine Norcross, Helen Callaway, Venita Anderson, Donald Dunwoody, Kels Boland, Edwin Sterne, Frank Harold and others.

Other parties have been formerly announced. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Armstrong will entertain a congenial party, honoring General and Mrs. Wallace Wright, of Plymouth, England, who are prominent visitors here. Lieutenant D. L. Madeira and Mrs. Madeira will be hosts to a congenial party at the Valentine ball. Covers will be placed for Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Robinson, Major Richard Donovan and Mrs. Donovan, Lieutenant Commander George Ashe and Mrs. Ashe, Lieutenant Commander Philip Weaver and Mrs. Weaver, Colonel Frank Jewell and Mrs. Jewell, Lieutenant Madeira and Mrs. Madeira.

Others who have made reservations are Mr. and Mrs. Logan Clark, Lowry Nicolson, Dr. J. G. Williams, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Anderson and Lauren Foreman.

Rev. and Mrs. W. W. West To Be Honored On Sixty-Third Wedding Anniversary

Of wide interest throughout Georgia is the observance of their 63rd wedding anniversary by Rev. W. W. West and Mrs. West Friday, February 7, at their home on the Campbellton road. This beloved couple will be honored by their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. West, at a mid-day dinner party next Sunday at their home on East Point avenue in East Point, the guests to include the daughters and sons of Rev. and Mrs. West. Following the dinner the grandchildren and great-grandchildren will assemble at Mr. and Mrs. E. D. West's home in tribute to their grandparents, the grandchildren numbering 42 and the great-grandchildren numbering 25.

Rev. and Mrs. West are well-known pioneers in this state, their marriage having been solemnized in 1867 in Putnam county. They are prominently identified with religious circles, the former being a retired Baptist minister. Mrs. West was before her marriage Miss Sarah Goodson, member of a prominent South Carolina family.

Rev. and Mrs. West's seven children reside in Atlanta and East Point, and include Mrs. S. L. Glover, J. W. West, T. C. West, Mrs. W. W. Hornsby, Mrs. Robert Clay, E. B. West and E. D. West.

Junior League Names Chairman At Monthly Meet

Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., was appointed chairman of the nominating committee of the Atlanta Junior League at the meeting of that organization yesterday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving Club. Mrs. John Knox, president, presiding. The following were elected to serve on the committee: Mesdames Frank Boston, Beverly DuBoise, Robert Foreman and Miss Margaret Nelson. Members of various other committees will be appointed later by Mrs. Knox. Plans were outlined for the Junior League Folies to be given February 24, as the meeting was the last before that date.

Mrs. W. Riley Camp Honors Miss Carter And Mr. Endicott

Honoring Miss Mary Elizabeth Carter and Lucien J. Endicott, whose marriage will be solemnized this month, Mrs. W. Riley Camp entertained at a bridge party last evening at her home on Boulevard drive. The home was artistically decorated in cut flowers. The Valentine theme was effectively carried out in all of the appointments of the lovely party. Mrs. R. B. Wilbanks, sister of the hostess, assisted in entertaining. The guests included Miss Carter, Mr. Endicott, Misses Mary Doyal, Louise Mills, Frank Camp, E. G. Barrett, Arthur Camp, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Willoby, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stamps, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Winn and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Maxwell.

Principal Officers Are Elected At Methodist Meeting

Mrs. Frank Wells, of Hapeville, was named superintendent of missions and Bible study, and Mrs. J. N. Ezerem, Sr., representative on the general board of missions of the W. M. S. of the North Georgia conference of the M. E. church at the second-day meeting of that organization Tuesday at the Grace Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. McEachern, who is the retiring president of the society, was chosen to fill the post left vacant by the recent death of the late Mrs. Luke Johnson.

Mrs. Wells is well known throughout the south and Georgia for her splendid work in missionary work. She has been associated with the North Georgia conference for several years. Her election was unanimous. Mrs. McEachern's executive ability has caused her to be prominent in religious and women's activities for a number of years.

Following elections the financial report for the year was made by Treasurer Mrs. E. W. Brogdon. Her figures, audited by certified public accountants, were as follows: Total amount received from missionary societies, $67,659.32; balance, after disbursements, $88.33.

This twentieth session, according to the president's report, is the largest in the history of the organization, with as many as 250 delegates already enrolled and more expected.

Tuesday evening Miss Eglantina Flores, a Mexican girl, who is attending the Seavitt training school, in Nashville, spoke on "The Student Volunteer Movement in Mexico." Miss Ada Lee spoke on "The Chinese Girl and the Western."

The session will continue through Thursday. Wednesday morning, Hunter Bell, city editor of the Journal, will address the delegates on "When News is News."

Standard Clothing Latest Soviet Plan

MOSCOW, Feb. 4.—(P)—With an eye to establishing complete equality among its citizenry and of hastening the dawn of pure communism, the soviet government is now considering adoption of standardized low-priced dresses and shoes for the masses as well as a uniform type of houses, furniture, beds and even standard forms of food.

Under this system all members of Russian society will be reduced to a common level and there will be no ground for anyone to complain that his neighbor is better clothed, housed or fed than himself.

Styles by Annette.

The jacket and skirt with tight hip band buttoned at side are of feather weight tulle in orange-rose tones. The tuck-in blouse of eggshell silk crepe printed in red polka-dots uses plain red crepe for bow tie and for piping of V-neckline.

Horizontal tucks across center front of the bodice are decorative.

This jaunty outfit style No. 389 is designed in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust.

You'll find it extremely easy to make. The straight jacket is merely closed at sides and shoulders. The fronts are underfaced and the collar is stitched at neckline. Only two major parts to blouse! The skirt is seamed and stitched to hip yoke.

Pattern price 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

We suggest that when you send for pattern, you enclose 10 cents additional for a copy of our new Spring Fashion Magazine, just off the press.

Address orders to Annette Fashion Dept., care The Constitution, Atlanta, Georgia.

RINGLING'S YACHT FEARED TOTAL LOSS

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 4.—(P)—Heavy seas pounded tonight at the palatial yacht Salophus, owned by John Ringling, circus magnate, as it lay practically submerged in 12 feet of water, one mile off Ringling island in the Gulf of Mexico, where it sank early today after striking a rock.

Along the waterfront seafaring folk believed that unless the high winds abated shortly the $200,000 yacht might be battered to a complete loss. Insurance representatives said nothing could be done about raising the boat until insurance companies had inspected its condition.

The 125-foot yacht, manned by a crew of 12 and carrying several passengers, set out from here about midnight last night for a cruise to Useppa island, near Fort Myers. Shortly after entering the gulf through South pass the boat struck an uncharted rock and sank.

The passengers and crew immediately put out in motor craft carried aboard the yacht and reached here about daybreak. None of the passengers was injured, but two members of the crew suffered crushed hands while lowering the lifeboats. They are C. B. Moore and Thomas Thompson.

Although a statement issued from Mr. Ringling's office stated that only four passengers were aboard the yacht, it was learned from several sources that the party consisted of ten although the names of the others were not divulged.

The statement said those aboard were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gumpertz, their niece, Miss Lizette Gumpertz, and William Greve, president of the Prudence Bosc Company, of New York. Mr. Ringling was not aboard the yacht and it is understood he is now in New York.

Mr. Gumpertz, who is connected with the developments at Coney Island, New York, and a close personal friend of Mr. Ringling, said he had ordered a Tampa towing firm to send a wrecking tug to the scene in an effort to salvage the yacht. No tug had arrived tonight, however.

The yacht, powered with two 180-horsepower motors, was built in 1923. It was modeled after the Wannamaker yacht Pastime.

SHIPPING HALTED Chinese Warn British of New River Fighting.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—(P)—The Exchange Telegraph Company today had a dispatch from Hongkong which said the Chinese central government had warned British shipping against navigating the upper West river above Tientsin during the next fortnight owing to outbreak of hostilities there.

Meanwhile there were reports from Canton that there had been a heavy engagement in the vicinity of Pinglo, north of Wuchow, with heavy casualties for both sides. It was claimed over 1,000 rebels were killed and wounded.

Search for Eielson Abandoned by Soviet Louisiana Solons Lose Double Salary

MOSCOW, Feb. 4.—(P)—The arctic commission of the soviet government has abandoned all further search for Carl B. Eielson and his companion, Earl Borland, in the belief that the two American airmen perished in Siberia.

Officials of the arctic commission had persisted in their search for the two men despite the discovery of Eielson's wrecked plane on the Siberian coast January 23. There was no trace of the two fliers, missing in the arctic since November 9. However, there still was a hope that they might have survived the crash and made their way to some place of safety.

Today the arctic commission regretfully acknowledged the conclusion that the two Americans had perished and consequently announced abandonment of all further search for the courageous Americans who gave their lives in an effort to bring aid to the stranded trading ship Naumik off the northern coast of Siberia.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 4.—(P)—With nearly a score of members of the Louisiana legislature threatened with the loss of positions in the executive department of the state because of supreme court's decision yesterday ruling out the "dual salary," much uneasiness was felt today, but no widespread official action taken.

Attaches of the office of Attorney-General Percy Saint said that the supreme court's ruling amounted to an automatic dropping from the pay rolls of executive boards, departments and commissions of the legislators affected. No further suits were necessary to "oust." The information from the attorney-general's office said that unless an appeal is filed within 15 days the case will be closed.

Governor Long, at the helm of the appointive system in the executive department, returned to his New Orleans offices today from Shreveport but had "no comment to make" on the outcome of the case.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

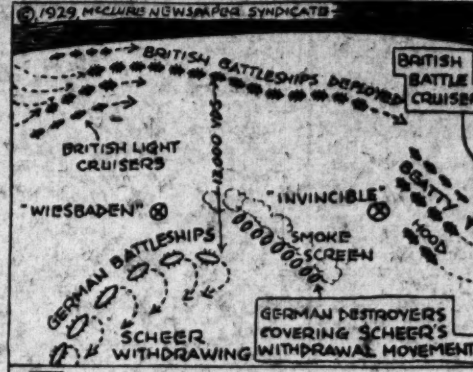

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

THE GREAT NAVAL BATTLE OF JUTLAND BEGAN AT 5 P. M., MAY 31, 1916, WHEN BEATTY'S CRUISER SQUADRON MET THE GERMAN SCOUTING FLEET IN THE NORTH SEA. A FIERCE ACTION TOOK PLACE IN WHICH TWO BRITISH BATTLE CRUISERS WERE SUNK. AT 6 THE GERMAN MAIN FLEET CAME ON THE SCENE, AND BEATTY SPED NORTHWARD TO DRAW THE GERMAN WITHIN RANGE OF JELICOE.

JOINED BY THE ADVANCE CRUISERS OF JELICOE'S FLEET, BEATTY FIERCELY ENGAGED SCHEER AND HIPPER. IN THIS COMBAT THE BRITISH LOST ONE BATTLE CRUISER AND THREE ARMORED CRUISERS, WHILE THE GERMANS LOST ONLY THE LIGHT CRUISER "WIESBADEN" AT THIS CRITICAL JUNCTURE JELICOE CAME UP WITH THE BRITISH BATTLE FLEET.

SOON THE LEADING VESSELS OF THE LINE OF GERMAN BATTLESHIPS HAD COME UNDER THE CONCENTRATED FIRE OF JELICOE'S BATTLE SHIPS AND BEATTY'S CRUISERS. FROM THIS DANGEROUS SITUATION SCHEER ADROITLY EXTRICATED HIMSELF BY A BOLD WHEELING MOVEMENT TO THE WEST, COVERING THIS MANEUVER BY A DESTROYER ATTACK AGAINST THE BRITISH LINE.

SCHERER CAME BACK TO THE ATTACK, BUT IN THE GATHERING DARKNESS AND THE DENSE SMOKE FROM GUNS AND FUNNELS THE COMBATANTS LOST CONTACT AGAIN AND AGAIN. A BLIND BATTLE WENT ON THROUGHOUT THE NIGHT AS THE BRITISH AND GERMAN FLEETS GROPED FOR EACH OTHER IN THE GLOOM.

Beauty Fashions

A GRACEFUL FROCK.

6741. This distinctive model has the molded hip line, and graceful curves in yoke sections, to which a flare flounce is added. A broad vestee is outlined by wide revers. The sleeve is a fitted model. Groups of shoulder tucks trim the front. Crepe back satin, or canton crepe may be selected for this design. It is also suitable for transparent velvet and for light weight woolsens.

The pattern is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 38-inch size will require 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material. For revers, facing and a tie as illustrated of contrasting material 3/8 yard 39 inches wide is required, cut crosswise. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 3 1/4 yards.

A POPULAR DRESS STYLE FOR THE GROWING GIRL.

6726. Plaid woolen in a bias pattern of brown and tan tones is here

pictured, with tan crepe for trimming. Velvet or wool crepe are also suggested. The dress comprised a skirt arranged in wide plaits over the front and back. The waist joins the skirt beneath a wide belt. The closing is under the overlap at the center front of the waist. The sleeve is gathered to a deep band cuff. The collar is long over the front of the neck and is rolled.

This pattern is cut in four sizes: 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. To make the dress for a 12-year size will require 2 7/8 yards of 39-inch material. For collar, belt, overlap and band—cuffs of contrasting material 3/8 yard is required 39 inches wide, and cut crosswise.

A PRACTICAL STYLE.

6721. This portrays a new style of smock, or utility frock, made with fitted waist portions, to which circular skirt portions are attached. These have inserted pockets. The waist fronts are double breasted below revers facings that meet a rolled collar in notches. The sleeve is gathered to a band cuff. A small vestee squares the deep "V" of the neck. This model is suitable for wash materials and for woolen goods. In linen or madras, cretonne or pongee it makes a smart smock. Tweed, fine serge or jersey weaves are suggested for this style if made as a dress for general daytime wear.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: Small, 34-36; medium, 36-38; large, 42-44; extra large, 48-48 inches bust measure. To make the garment in a medium size will require 4 1/8 yards of 39-inch material. For facing of contrasting material on collar, revers portions of the fronts and band cuffs 3/4 yard is required 36 inches wide. The width of the smock at the lower edge with fullness extended is 2 3/4 yards.

"I Feel Like a New Person"

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was tired, nervous and run-down. I saw the advertisement and decided to try it because I was hardly able to do my housework. It has helped me in every way. My nerves are better, I have a good appetite, I sleep well and I do not tire so easily. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other women for it gives me so much strength and makes me feel like a new person."—Mrs. Lena Young, R. # 1, Ellsworth, Maine.

THE CROWS MAKE A BRAVE SHOWING.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

Not often doth success attend
The ones who foolishly pretend.
—Old Mother Nature.

All talking at once, with Blacky at their head, the Crows of the Green Forest headed for Blacky's nest. It was Blacky's old nest—the one he and Mrs. Blacky had used in the spring. They were very much excited, were those Crows. They were just like a lot of boys starting out for a good time. You see, Blacky had told them he had found Hooty the Owl and Mrs. Hooty in possession of what old nest. They were going to have a good time tormenting Hooty and Mrs. Hooty. At least, that is what they expected.

As they drew near the tree in the Green Forest where that nest was hidden, Mrs. Blacky flew ahead. She wanted to be the first one there. As soon as she came in sight of that nest she began to caw at the top of her lungs, and it was a very angry caw; and all the other Crows knew that the Owls were still there. They spread out so as to form a circle around the tree and the nest; and every single Crow seemed to be trying to outscram every other Crow. Such a noise as they made. It didn't seem possible that they could caw any louder. Yet, when they got near enough to actually see Hooty and Mrs. Hooty, the noise was doubled. Yes, sir, it was doubled!

Now, Crows dearly love to pretend to be very brave. They like to show off in the presence of other Crows. Not one of those Crows alone would have gone anywhere near Hooty, but with so many together they felt very brave and they crowded right around that nest. Mrs. Hooty was sitting just back of it. Hooty was just at one side of it. Both were sitting very straight and glaring angrily at their tormentors. Their big, yellow eyes were very angry looking and very fierce looking. Every time a Crow looked straight at those eyes he lost his courage. He didn't caw quite so loudly and he hurriedly got a little farther away. Hooty was hissing and snapping his bill and Mrs. Hooty was hissing and snapping her bill.

Now, although that was the nest of Blacky and Mrs. Blacky, you would have seen had you been there that they were very careful, very careful, indeed, to keep on the outside and not get too near the Owls. They urged the others in, but themselves were careful not to get within striking distance of either of those angry Owls. Some of the other older Crows followed their example. It was the younger Crows—the Crows of little experience—who tried to show off. These were the ones who darted in and threatened to pull out some of the feathers of Hooty and Mrs. Hooty, and boasted that they would peck their eyes out. Oh, they made a brave showing, did those young Crows! Now, all the time Hooty and Mrs. Hooty were growing more and more angry. They were not in the least afraid of those Crows. They were annoyed, but not afraid. All the boasting of those young Crows had no effect, excepting to make them angry. It was astonishing to see them turn their heads. No Crow had a chance to steal up behind either one. Some of those young Crows tried it and were startled to find themselves looking straight into those fierce, yellow eyes. A lot of them drew themselves together and flew straight at Hooty in a black cloud. Hooty merely blinked more angrily than ever. And when the Crows reached him they merely separated, some going one side and some the other. They didn't have the courage to really attack.

Some of the older Crows who were watching sharply saw that Hooty was losing his temper very fast. Those Crows were wise old Crows. They had teased Owls before. They understood the signs. Very soon it would be safer to be somewhere else.

Hospital Preference proves the importance of Kotex to your health

Authorities in 85% of America's leading hospitals now insist upon Kotex absorbent... proving its hygienic safety.

If there is one time above all others when you want hygienic security, a feeling of safety and absolute comfort, it is when you are selecting sanitary protection. That is why you will appreciate the fact that America's great hospitals (85% of them) are now using Kotex absorbent.

Cellucotton—not cotton

Hospitals know this as Cellucotton absorbent wadding. It is not cotton, but a cellulose product which, for sanitary purposes, performs the same function as the softest of cotton, with 5 times the absorbency.

The marvelous absorbency of Cellucotton explains why Kotex stays soft longer. This protection gives greater safety and security because it absorbs away from the surface, not in just one particular spot.

Soft, lasting protection

It is well designed, it won't twist and bulge, it can't pack. Sometimes there is a deceptive softness about a pad which soon turns to chafing, uncomfortable stiffness after it's worn. That isn't true of Kotex, as you will soon discover when you try it.

Then, of course, there is the reason most women first began to use Kotex: it is disposable. Kotex Company, Chicago, Illinois.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

- 1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, fleecy softness that lasts for hours.
- 2—Safe, secure... keeps your mind at ease.
- 3—Fascinating... the sign of true daintiness.
- 4—In hospitals... Kotex is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.
- 5—Deodorizes, safely, thoroughly, by a special process.

Increased Farm Ownership By Georgia Operators Urged

Georgia Association Will Use Influence To Turn Present Tenant Farmers Into Home Owners.

The great need of Georgia agriculture is increased farm ownership on the part of the men who operate the farms, declared F. H. Abbott, president of the Georgia Association, Tuesday at the meeting of the Southeastern Real Estate Loan and Property Men's Association at the Piedmont hotel.

The past 12 years in Georgia have demonstrated that in no other state of the union can more profits be made from varied phases of live stock raising than in Georgia, Mr. Abbott said. "We can produce dairy products cheaper on Georgia farms than elsewhere," he said, pointing out that real estate loan men have an opportunity to aid in solving the problem of the Georgia farmer.

From 60 to 70 per cent of the Georgia farms are on a tenant basis, and rents have gone down within the past six or seven years, giving rise to the

Art Without Set Standard, Says Homer Saint-Gaudens

Capacity Crowd Hears Noted Lecturer at Agnes Scott

BY GEORGE HATCHER.

Art as a mirror of the religious and social life of a people with its standards varying with different countries and the times, was described by Homer Saint-Gaudens, director of the department of fine arts of Carnegie institute at the Agnes Scott college auditorium Tuesday night.

A capacity crowd heard the noted art authority's lecture, which marked the opening of the Decatur school's 1930 LYCEUM season.

Developing his theme with illustrations, by means of stereopticon slides, taken from modern art and the old masters, Mr. Saint-Gaudens declared that "there has never been one set standard in art."

"To realize that there must be more than one standard," he continued, "one need only to cite the greatest artists, their interests and tastes; to see how even their own time and again the trend of their admiration runs counter to their work."

"Many of the learned men say that Riomini established the standard of art when he painted the silken rolls of the far-away days in China."

"Greek sculptors," he said, "the Medici 'Venus,' established the standard."

"An eminent pedagogue can give one indisputable proof that another unknown worker of Amiens, who carved the head of Jean Dieu in the stone of the Cathedral established the standard."

"While you can find many besides Berenson replete with Renaissance theories, to say that the painter Raphael when he expressed the emotional wealth of the Catholic religion in the Stanzas of the Papal Palace in Rome established the standard was at least possible."

CHICAGO ACCEPTS 'DICTATORSHIP'

CHICAGO Feb. 4.—Chicago today accepted a virtual dictatorship in an attempt to drive the wolf from its governmental doors.

Without one dissenting vote the city council approved to the ultimatum of the Silas H. Strawn citizens' rescue committee and pledged the city to co-operate with the committee.

The co-operation means that the Strawn group, backed by more than $750,000, will advance money as it is needed for economic functioning of the city government.

The city council also called upon the school board, the public library directors and the municipal tuberculosis sanitarium board to adopt similar resolutions of co-operation. Cook county commissioners already had signified their willingness to submit their needs and pay rolls to the Strawn committee.

Relief is expected to be accomplished through the purchase of tax anticipation warrants by Strawn and his colleagues, the purchases to be made as the money is needed and only when the committee approves proposed expenditures.

Capitulation of the city brought hope to the many thousands of city and county employees who have been without pay since Christmas. They looked tonight to the action of the governmental agencies which have not yet pledged co-operation, for on that depends the help of the Strawn group.

Before leaving for Washington yesterday Mr. Strawn said relief depended upon co-operation from all officials.

The committee consists of 15 capitalists, the majority of them large taxpayers in the city and county, who have pooled their estimated taxes against the help of the Strawn group.

Storm in Louisiana Kills One, Hurts Seven

LAFAYETTE, La., Feb. 4.—(AP)—A survey from a fierce windstorm of last night revealed one dead and seven persons injured in Lafayette parish. Woodley Harrison, 12, was killed and his mother and three other of her children were injured. The male demolished their home. Mrs. Frank Leblanc and two children were hurt, though not seriously, and their residence was wrecked.

Fences were demolished and plate-glass windows broken in Lafayette.

NEXT DAY LINK'S FATHER CAME TO SEE US ON THE BOAT. "LUCIO," HE SAID, "THIS PLACE IS HAUNTED. I DON'T THINK I'M GOING TO LIKE IT HERE. ALL BY MYSELF, WHEN YOU FOLLOW US," LUCIO SMILED. "NONSENSE," HE SAID.

BUT LINK'S DADDY SHOOK HIS HEAD. "I WAS OVER ACROSS THE BAY," HE SAID, "AND I TELL YOU IT'S A HAUNTED PLACE. I SAW RAFAEL OVER THERE TOO. LUCIO WAS SURPRISED. 'DID HE SEE YOU?' HE ASKED.

"ANSWERED LINK'S DAD, 'I WATCHED OUT FOR THAT. HE CARRIED A GUN. HE WAS LOOKING FOR SOMETHING. HE WALKED WITH HIS EYES TURNED ON THE GROUND. BUT HE DIDN'T FIND IT.' 'HOW DO YOU KNOW?' ASKED LUCIO.

"BECAUSE I FOUND IT MYSELF," SAID LINK'S DAD. HE HELD UP A GLASS THAT GLITTERED AND SPARKED LIKE A BALL OF FIRE. 'A DIAMOND!' EXCLAIMED DAD. AND IT WAS A DIAMOND—A BIG ONE, FASTENED TO A BUCKLE ON A LADY'S SLIPPER.

THE SON OF TARZAN No. 63

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

One day followed another with monotonous sameness for Korak, living with his elephant companions in the forest glade. But for Meriem—his Meriem—a whole new world seemed to unfold itself daily. She spoke English now instead of Arabic. She could read and write it together with French. Whole phrases of that language came easily to her out of some mysterious past. Today she thrilled over a new excitement that was about to happen.

Visitors were coming! A party of English and Americans had accepted Bwana's invitation to spend a month of hunting with him. Meriem was all expectancy, wondering what they would be like. At last they arrived. The youngest member of the group was the Hon. Morison Baynes, bored with his riches and the pleasures offered by his social contacts. Nature had favored him with a splendid physique and a handsome face.

Meriem was at first shy and reserved in the presence of the strangers. Her benefactors had seen fit to ignore mention of her strange past and merely presented her as their ward. The guests found her charming. She was vivacious, sweet and unassuming, and a never exhausted storehouse of quaint and interesting jungle lore. Morison Baynes was attracted to her from the first, especially as they were the only unmarried couple there.

TENANTS AT WILL
Many persons go through life without ever having a spot of earth upon which they can set foot and call their own. They pay for the privilege of living in houses owned by others, and walk or ride on highways owned by the State, County or City. Their children in the public schools sing "HOME SWEET HOME," and think of a rented house; "MY COUNTRY 'TIS OF THEE," and wonder what it is all about. They are tenants at will in a world of which others are the proprietors. Every good citizen becomes a better citizen by owning his own home. FOR MANY YEARS PAST THERE HASN'T BEEN A MORE FAVORABLE TIME TO MAKE A BEGINNING THAN NOW.
